

Contents

Preface	ix
Contributors	xi

Part I. Effect of Aging on Nutrition

- 1. Sociological Factors that Influence Nutritional Status in the Elderly
Rodney M. Coe and Douglas K. Miller 3
- 2. Age-related Changes in Taste and Smell that Affect Nutritional Adequacy
Carol J. Dye 13
- 3. Impact of Aging on Protein Metabolism
Vernon R. Young 27
- 4. Atherosclerosis and Plasma Lipid Transport with Aging
Gustav Schonfeld 49
- 5. Changes in Calcium and Vitamin D Metabolism with Age
H. James Armbrecht 69

Part II. Effect of Nutrition on Aging—Length of Life

- 6. Dietary Restriction and Metabolism and Disease
Edward J. Masoro 87
- 7. Dietary Restriction and Biological Variables
Charles H. Barrows, Jr. and Gertrude C. Kokkonen 95

- 8. Aging in the Food-restricted Rat: Body Temperature, Receptor Function, and Morphologic Changes in the Brain
Christopher D. West, Ladislav Volicer, and Deborah W. Vaughan 111
- 9. Dietary Antioxidants, Membrane Lipids, and Aging
Grace Y. Sun and Albert Y. Sun 139
- 10. Membrane Changes Associated with Alcohol Use and Aging: Possibilities for Nutritional Intervention
W. Gibson Wood and R. Strong 159

Part III. Effect of Nutrition on Aging—Functional Ability

- 11. Calcium Supplementation and Osteoporosis
Louis V. Avioli 183
- 12. Carbohydrate Metabolism and Diabetes in the Aged
Alan B. Silverberg 191
- 13. Nutritional Intervention During Immunologic Aging: Past and Present
S. Jill James and Takashi Makinodan 209
- 14. Effects of Nutritional Factors on Memory Function
Arthur Cherkin 229
- 15. Modifying the Effects of Environmental Chemicals by Dietary Manipulation: A Search for Hemeprotein Peroxidase Inhibitors
Bernard B. Davis and Terry V. Zenser 251

Part IV. Nutrition and Aging—Evaluation and Management

- 16. Nutritional Evaluation of the Institutionalized Elderly
John M. Prendergast 269
- 17. Nutritional Management of the Elderly
Virginia M. Herrmann 293

18. Problems in Nutritional Management of the Elderly
Margaret A. Flynn	307
19. Interrelationship of Exercise and Nutrition in the Elderly
John W. Shepard, Jr.	315
Index	333