

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
1 Introduction	1
The Study of Language and Gender	2
The Nature of Language	3
Language is Personal	4
Language is Social	5
The Saussurean Model	5
The Semiotic Approach	6
The Nature of Gender and the Gendered Nature of Society	7
The Relation Between Language and Gender	8
Language Reflects Gender Divisions	9
Language Creates Gender Divisions	10
There is an Interplay Between Language and Social Structure	10
2 The Voice of Authority	12
Introduction	13
The Physical Basis of the Voice	14
The Evidence for Social Learning of the Voice	18
Cross-cultural Evidence	23
Pre-adolescent Children	25
The Social Meaning of Men's and Women's Voices	27
Sociobiological Explanations	27
Social Psychological Explanations	31
Sociopolitical Explanations	35
Conclusion	39

3	Accents of Femininity? Gender Differences in Language Use	41
	Introduction	41
	Sex-exclusive Differences and Differences of Degree	42
	Social Stratification Studies	46
	Some Initial Interpretations	50
	Criticisms of Social Stratification Studies	51
	Alternative Accounts of Female and Male Speech	58
	Social Psychological Explanations	58
	Social Networks and Patterns of Interaction	59
	Gender Signals	65
	Conclusion	67
4	Conversation: The Sexual Division of Labour	69
	Introduction	69
	Speaking and Silence	70
	Talking in Class – An Illustration	71
	Aiding and Abetting: Gender and Other Factors	73
	Conversation Management	74
	The Supporting Role	75
	Interruptions – Everyday Insults	77
	Rings and Slingshots: The Use of Directives	80
	The Language of Uncertainty	83
	Women's Language? Some Qualifications	88
	Women's Language: Explanations	89
	Gender Subcultures	89
	Gender and Power	91
	Gender and Politeness	92
	Conclusion	94
5	Is Language Sexist?	95
	Introduction	95
	The Disappearing Woman and the Ascent of Man	99
	The Feminine as a Marked Category	99
	Lexical Gaps	110
	Woman Scorned	111
	Semantic Derogation and the Linguistic Disparagement of Women	112
	Women, Ladies and Girls	114
	How to Describe a Woman	118

Sexism Abroad	119
Sexism in Europe: the 'Natural' v. 'Grammatical'
Gender Distinction	120
Words for Women and Men – Examples from the
Lebanon and Japan	124
Neutral Languages?	126
Sexism: Some Qualifications	129
The Notion of Bias	129
Intentionality	130
Language System v. Language Use	131
World Knowledge and Knowledge of Language	132
Man-made Language	132
Language and Thought	134
Conclusion	134

6	Language, Communication and Consciousness	135
	Introduction	135
	Language Reflects Social Divisions: A Model of
	Structure and Agency	136
	The Role of Individual Speakers	138
	Constraints Arising from Social Structures	139
	The Role of Ideology and Institutions	141
	The Structure and Agency Model and Implications
	for Change	145
	Language Creates Social Divisions: Models of Linguistic
	Determinism	146
	The Whorfian Hypothesis	147
	The Semiotic Approach	156
	The Poststructuralist Model	157
	Possibilities for Change	164
	The Dialectical Position: A Linguistic Model of Discourse	165
	Propositional Structure	165
	Discourse and Social Reality	167
	Conclusion	172
7	Linguistic Intervention	174
	Introduction	175
	Intervention and Change: Some Case Studies	000
	Case Study 1: Computer Conferencing at the
	Open University	175

Case Study 2: Equal Opportunities in Training: Three Examples from Industry	178
Case Study 3: Equality in the Classroom	184
Case Study 4: Equality Guidelines for Course Materials	187
Language and Social Change	189
Strategies for Intervention	190
Is It Worth Promoting Linguistic Change?	193
Conclusion	195
References	197
Index	209