

The Relation of Writing to Spoken Language

Edited by

Martin Neef, Anneke Neijt and Richard Sproat

Max Niemeyer Verlag
Tübingen 2002

Table of Contents

Martin Neef, Anneke Neijt, and Richard Sproat

Introduction	1
--------------------	---

Section 1: Consistency

Anneke Neijt

The Interfaces of Writing and Grammar	11
---	----

Richard Sproat

The Consistency of the Orthographically Relevant Level in Dutch.....	35
--	----

Section 2: Cross-Linguistic Studies

Susanne R. Borgwaldt & Annette M.B. de Groot

Beyond the Rime: Measuring the Consistency of Monosyllabic and Polysyllabic Words ...	49
---	----

Dorit Ravid & Steven Gillis

Teachers' Perception of Spelling Patterns and Children's Spelling Errors: A Cross-Linguistic Perspective	71
---	----

Section 3: Diacritics and Punctuation

Vincent J. van Heuven

Effects of Diaeresis on Visual Word Recognition in Dutch	99
--	----

Jochen Geilfuß-Wolfgang

Optimal Hyphenation.....	115
--------------------------	-----

Ursula Bredel

The Dash in German.....	131
-------------------------	-----

Section 4: Sharpening in German

Christina Noack

Regularities in German Orthography:

A Computer-Based Comparison of Different Approaches to Sharpening 149

Martin Neef

The Reader's View: Sharpening in German 169

Thomas Lindauer

How Syllable Structure affects Spelling: A Case Study in Swiss German Syllabification... 193

Addresses of Contributors..... 209