

Richard Humphrey/Ansgar Nünning/Simon Cooke

Essential Study Skills for Bachelor/Master in English and American Studies

Klett Lernen und Wissen

Table of Contents

---

Starting Up	7
1 Are you a potential student of British and American Studies?	7
2 How to select your university and course of study	10
3 How to get adjusted to university life	18
4 How to manage your time as a student	24
5 How to set up your work-place	31
6 How to manage your eating, drinking and sleeping	36
The Essentials	40
7 How to prepare and give a presentation	40
8 How to write a seminar paper	46
9 How to get the best out of a lecture	54
10 How to conduct literary research	57
11 How to ensure that your English is always improving, always state-of-the-art	63
12 How to use local and national library facilities and resources	68
13 How to get the best out of the web	73
14 How to work on a final dissertation	79
15 How to apply for a semester/year abroad as an ERASMUS student	88
16 How to apply for a year abroad as language assistant at a school	98
17 How to be successful during your time abroad	103
18 How to write an essay at a British/American university	108
19 How to approach exams	110
20 How to prepare for an oral exam	113
21 How to prepare for a written exam	121
22 How to prepare for an exam in translation into English	128
23 How to prepare for an exam in essay-writing	133
The Extras	139
24 How to find an internship or holiday job in an English-speaking country	139
25 How to apply for scholarships at home and abroad	142
26 How to deal with uncomprehending parents and relatives	147
Moving On	150
27 How to embark on a doctorate	150
28 How to approach the job market with a degree in British and American Studies	153
29 How to embark on a career as a university teacher	160
30 The good student: a skills profile	163
Bibliography	167