

Contents

Preface	vii
Notes on Contributors	viii
Introduction: The Role of the Romanies: Images and Counter-Images Susan Tebbutt and Nicholas Saul	1
Part I: Romany Studies and its Parameters
John Sampson and Romani Studies in Liverpool Anthony Sampson	15
The Gypsy Collections at Liverpool Katharine Hooper	21
Belated Travelling Theory, Contemporary Wild Praxis: A Romani Perspective on the Practical Politics of the Open End Ken Lee	31
Part II: Constructions and Concoctions of Romany Culture
The Role of Language in Mystifying and Demystifying Gypsy Identity Yaron Matras	53
The Origins of Anti-Gypsyism: The Outsiders' View of Romanies in Western Europe in the Fifteenth Century Donald Kenrick	79
The Concoctors: Creating Fake Romani Culture Ian Hancock	85

Modernity, Culture and 'Gypsies': Is there a Meta-Scientific Method for Understanding the Representation of 'Gypsies'? And do the Dutch really Exist? Thomas Acton	98
--	----

Part III: Orientalism and Gender Issues in Literature

Half a Gypsy: The Case of Ezra Jennings in Wilkie Collins's The Moonstone (1868) Nicholas Saul	119
---	-----

Understanding the 'Other'? Communication, History and Narration in Margriet de Moor's Hertog van Egypte (1996) Claudia Breger	131
--	-----

From Survival to Subversion: Strategies of Self-Representation in Selected Works by Mariella Mehr Carmel Finnan	145
---	-----

Part IV: Memory, Records and the Romany Experience

Disproportional Representation: Romanies and European Art Susan Tebbutt	159
---	-----

A Photographer and his 'Victims' 1934–1964: Reconstructing a Shared Experience of the Romani Holocaust Eve Rosenhaft	178
--	-----

Ritual of Memory in Constructing the Modern Identity of Eastern European Romanies Slawomir Kapralski	208
--	-----

'Severity has often enraged but never subdued a gypsy': The History and Making of European Romani Stereotypes Colin Clark	226
---	-----

Index	247
--------------	-----