

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Notes on Contributors	viii
Introduction Rachel Moseley	1
Part One: Hollywood	9
1. Norma Shearer as Marie Antoinette: Which Body Too Much? Jane Marie Gaines and Charlotte Cornelia Herzog	11
2. Storytelling: Marlene Dietrich's Face and John Frederics' Hats Drake Stutesman	27
3. Gregory Peck: Anti-Fashion Icon Stella Bruzzi	39
4. Pillow Talk's Repackaging of Doris Day: 'Under all those dirndls ...' Tamar Jeffers	50
5. Brad Pitt and George Clooney, the Rough and the Smooth: Male Costuming in Contemporary Hollywood Pamela Church Gibson	62
6. Samuel L. Jackson: Beyond the Post-Soul Male Russell White	75
Part Two: Asia, Latin America and Europe	85
7. Sulochana: Clothes, Stardom and Gender in Early Indian Cinema Kaushik Bhaumik	87
8. The Hollywood Movie Star and the Mexican Chica Moderna Joanne Hershfield	98
9. Dress, Class and Audrey Hepburn: The Significance of the Cinderella Story Rachel Moseley	109

10.	Paris, Hollywood and Kay Kendall Christine Geraghty	121
11.	Hot Couture: Brigitte Bardot's Fashion Revolution Ginette Vincendeau	134
12.	'Sean Connery Is James Bond': Re-Fashioning British Masculinity in the 1960s Pam Cook and Claire Hines	147
13.	Luisina Brando's Costuming in María Luisa Bemberg's Films: An Excessive Femininity Denise Miller	160
	Bibliography	172
	Index	181