

Contents

Preface. . . . .	vii
Bibliography of George Kennedy. . . . .	ix
I. THE ORATOR IN THEORY
1. How Good Should an Orator Be? . . . . .	3
Oivind Andersen University of Oslo
2. What the Laws Have Prejudged: Ilapaypacf ^ and Early Issue Theory. . . . .	17
Edwin Carawan Southwest Missouri State University
II. THE ORATOR IN ACTION: GREECE
3. The Superfluous Bag: Rhetoric and Display in the Histories of Herodotus. . . . .	55
Sheila Murnaghan University of Pennsylvania
4. Rhetoric, Art, and Myth: Isocrates and Busiris. . . . .	73
Terry L. Papillon Virginia Polytechnic Institute
III. THE ORATOR IN ACTION: ROME
5. Julius Caesar, The Orator of Paradox. . . . .	97
A.D. Leeman University of Amsterdam
6. Shifting Charge and Shifty Argument in Cicero's Speech for Sestius. . . . .	m
Christopher Craig University of Tennessee
7. Cicero's Pro Milone : An Ideal Speech of an Ideal Orator. . . . .	123
James M. May St. Olaf College
IV. THE ORATOR IN THE EMPIRE
8. Returning to Tacitus' Dialogus . . . . .	137
Michael Winterbottom Oxford University

9. Figured Speeches: 'Dionysius,' Art of Rhetoric VIII-IX. . . . .156
D.A. Russell Oxford University

General Index. . . . .169

Index Locorum. . . . .171