

Making America /
Making
American Literature

Franklin to Cooper

Edited by
A. Robert Lee
and W.M. Verhoeven

Amsterdam - Atlanta, GA
1996

CONTENTS

Introduction	7
1 Benjamin Franklin and the Myths of Nationhood CARLA MULFORD	15
2 Jonathan Edwards: The Old in the New — Writing As Revelation MASON LOWANCE, Jr.	59
3 Speculative Discourse: Uses of the Future in The Declaration, The Federalist Papers , Jefferson, and Paine NICHOLAS ROMBES	77
4 Periodicals and the Development of an American Literature EDWARD E. CHIELENS	93
5 The Mind Set Free: Charles Brockden Brown's Wieland DAVID SEED	105
6 "Persuasive Rhetorick": Representation and Resistance in Early American Epistolary Fiction W.M. VERHOEVEN	123
7 The Gendering of American Fiction: Susanna Rowson to Catharine Sedgwick KATHRYN ZABELLE DEROUNIAN-STODOLA	165
8 Ancient and Modern in the Writings of Washington Irving RICHARD D. RUST	183
9 Washington Irving's Great Enterprise: Exploring American Values in the Western Writings BRIAN HARDING	199

10	Nationalizing the American Stage: The Drama of Royall Tyler and William Dunlap As Post-Colonial Phenomena GARY A. RICHARDSON	221
X 11	Re-Birthing "America": Philip Freneau, William Cullen Bryant and the Invention of Modern Poetics JOSEPH HARRINGTON	249
X 12	Selves Subscribed: Early Afro-America and the Signifying of Phillis Wheatley, Jupiter Hammon, Olaudah Equiano, and David Walker A. ROBERT LEE	275
13	Alexander Hamilton: Reality As Play NORMAN S. GRABO	297
14	Talking Guns, Talking Turkey: Racial Violence in Early American Law and James Fenimore Cooper JOE LOCKARD	313
15	Of Pew Canopies and Pig-Pens: The Transatlantic Travails of James Fenimore Cooper ROBERT LAWSON-PEEBLES	337
	Notes on Contributors	357