

Rudi Keller / Karl Menges
(eds.)

Emerging Structures in Interdisciplinary Perspective

FRANCKE VERLAG TÜBINGEN UND BASEL

Contents

Introduction	VII
Rudi Keller
The Natural Language: A Spontaneous Order and its Socio-Cultural Evolution	1
Hans Süssmuth
The Interaction of Structure and Personality as a Methodological Challenge for German Historical Science	15
Hans-Georg Pott
Theories of Self-Organizing Systems and the Humanities	27
Herwig Friedl
Art and Culture as Emerging Events: Gertrude Stein, Pragmatism, and Process Philosophy	43
Winder McConnell
Order, Structure, and Chaos in Middle High German Literature	65
Therese Fischer-Seidel
Chaos Theory, Landscape Gardening, and Tom Stoppard's Dramatology of Coincidence in Arcadia	93
Karl Menges
The Noise of the Text. Emplotment of Entropy in Pynchon's Gravity's Rainbow	115
Clarence E. Walker
If Everybody Was a King, Who Built the Pyramids?: Afrocentrism and Black American History	133

Carol Tomlinson-Keasey

Emerging Organizations of the Human Mind

161

Frank Liedtke

Constructivism vs. Nativism:

The Controversy on the Emergence of Linguistic Structures

181