

Contents

Introduction

i x

1

"Could not—our women—be—ministers?":
RAISING THE QUESTION OF WOMEN'S RABBINIC
ORDINATION, 1889

1

2

"Make a highway for woman":
RISING EXPECTATIONS FOR WOMEN'S ORDINATION, THE 1890S

30

3

"[W]oman cannot justly be denied the privilege of ordination": 1922

61

4

"An idea whose time has come": 1972

118

5

*"[Q]ualifying her to teach ... is one thing.
Ordaining her as a rabbi is quite another":*

THE DEBATE IN CONSERVATIVE JUDAISM

170

Epilogue:

"Will there be orthodox women rabbis?": 1984

215

Notes

221

Abbreviations

285

Acknowledgments

287

Index

291