

Songs of the New South

Writing Contemporary Louisiana

Edited by
Suzanne Disheroon Green
and Lisa Abney

Foreword by Moira Crone

Contributions to the Study of American Literature, Number 8

GREENWOOD PRESS
Westport, Connecticut • London

Contents

Foreword: Acts of Translation Moirá Crone	xi
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction: A New Generation of Louisiana Writers Suzanne Disheroon Green and Lisa Abney	xvii

LOUISIANA NARRATIVES AND FOLK TRADITIONS

Living on the Edge in Rebecca Wells's Little Altars Everywhere Mary Ann Wilson	3
Food and Foodways in Michael Lee West's She Flew the Coop: A Novel Concerning Life, Death, Sex, and Recipes in Limoges, Louisiana Lisa Abney	11
New Orleans Mothers and Sons: Familial Relationships in John Kennedy Toole's The Neon Bible Patricia A. Threatt	19
"This Is the Kingfish": Huey Long's Autobiography, Every Man a King Philip Dubuisson Castille	27
Locating Community in Contemporary Southern Fiction: A Cultural Analysis of Robert Olen Butler's A Good Scent from a Strange Mountain Erin E. Campbell Cash	37

- The Spell of the Swampland: The Tales of Shirley Ann Grau
Sally B. Blanton 47
- “All Our Stories Begin Here”: Heroism and Sense of Place in James Lee
Burke’s Dave Robicheaux Mystery Series
Thomas Easterling 57
- From Huey Long to Willie Stark: Louisiana Politics in All the King’s Men
Harold Woodell 67
- PAGANISM, PAPISM, PROTESTANTISM,
AND THE NEW SOUTHERN RELIGION
- Postmodernism Goes South: John Dufresne’s Louisiana Power and Light
David J. Caudle 77
- Fiction Is My Religion: Conversations with John Dufresne
Kevin Blaine Bell and David J. Caudle 87
- Invoking Generational Demons: Orality and Catholicism in
The Witching Hour
Kenneth Price and Shelby Rosiak 99
- The Complicated Catholicism of Andre Dubus
Michael Cocchiarale 107
- Lady of the Earth and Moon: Goddess Imagery and the Ya-Yas
Lori Rowlett 115
- “Black cat bone and snake wisdom”: New Orleanian Hoodoo, Haitian
Voodoo, and Rereading Hurston’s Their Eyes Were Watching God
Pamela Glenn Menke 123

THREE CASTES OF RACE AND GENDER

- Awakening the “Essence of Blue”: The Emerging Southern Women of Kate Chopin and Moira Crone
Suzanne Disheroon Green 143
- Equality for African-American (Wo)Men: Quests for Masculinity in Ernest Gaines’s Bloodline
Laurie Champion 153

Contents	ix
“Against Regulations”: Southern Women in the Fiction of Rebecca Wells Patricia M. Gantt	163
Ellen Gilchrist’s Heroines: The Scourge of New Orleans Mary A. McCay	173
Rape and Redemption: The Revision of “Colored” Female Chastity in Pauline Hopkins’s Contending Forces and Anne Rice’s The Feast of All Saints Amy Anastasia Birge	183
Bloodlines: Creoles of Color and Identity in the Fiction of Ernest Gaines Keith Byerman	193
Selected Bibliography	203
Index	207
About the Editors and Contributors	215