

MIXING RACE,
MIXING CULTURE

Inter-American

Literary Dialogues

Edited by Monika Kaup and Debra J. Rosenthal

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS PRESS, AUSTIN

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction xi

I. MIXED-BLOOD EPISTEMOLOGIES 1

1. Werner Sollors, Can Rabbits Have Interracial Sex? 3
2. Doris Sommer, Who Can Tell? The Blanks in Villaverde 23
3. Zita C. Nunes, Phantasmatic Brazil: Nella Larsen's Passing, American Literary Imagination, and Racial Utopianism 50

II. MÉTISSAGE AND COUNTERDISCOURSE 63

4. Françoise Lionnet, Narrating the Americas: Transcolonial Métissage and Maryse Condé's La Migration des coeurs 65
5. Michèle Praeger, Créolité or Ambiguity? 88

III. INDIGENIZATION, MISCEGENATION, AND NATIONALISM 101

6. Priscilla Archibald, Gender and Mestizaje in the Andes 103
7. Debra J. Rosenthal, Race Mixture and the Representation of Indians in the U.S. and the Andes: Cumandá, Aves sin nido, The Last of the Mobicans, and Ramona 122
8. Susan Gillman, The Squatter, the Don, and the Grandissimes in Our America 140

IV. HYBRID HYBRIDITY 161

9. Rafael Pérez-Torres, Chicano Ethnicity, Cultural Hybridity, and the Mestizo Voice 163

10. Monika Kaup, Constituting Hybridity as Hybrid: Métis Canadian and Mexican American Formations 185

V. SITES OF MEMORY IN MIXED-RACE AUTOBIOGRAPHY 211

11. Rolando Hinojosa-Smith, Living on the River 213
12. Louis Owens, The Syllogistic Mixedblood: How Roland Barthes Saved Me from the indians 227

C O D A: From Exoticism to Mixed-Blood Humanism 241

13. Earl E. Fitz, From Blood to Culture: Miscegenation as Metaphor for the Americas 243

Works Cited 273

Contributors 287

Index 291