

CLOSE READING NEW MEDIA

Analyzing Electronic Literature

edited by
Jan VAN LOOY
and
Jan BAETENS

Leuven University Press
2003

Contents

| | |
|---|---|
| Introduction: Close Reading Electronic Literature | 7 |
| Jan Van Looy & Jan Baetens (K.U.Leuven) | |

I. Hypertext

| | |
|--|----|
| Stephanie Strickland's True North : A Migration between Media . . | 27 |
| Joseph Tabbi (University of Illinois – Chicago) | |
| Sutured Fragments: Shelley Jackson's Patchwork Girl in Piecework . | 39 |
| Elisabeth Joyce (Edinboro University of Pennsylvania) | |
| In Search of Califia | 53 |
| Raine Koskimaa (IT University of Copenhagen) | |

II. Internet Text

| | |
|---|----|
| Underground Lies: Revisiting Narrative in Hyperfiction | |
| Richard Saint-Gelais & René Audet (CRELIQ/Université Laval) | |
| Stealing or giving? On Raymond Federman's & Anne Burdick's Eating Books | 71 |
| Jan Baetens (K.U.Leuven) | |
| One must be Calm and Laugh: Geoff Ryman's Web Novel 253 as a Hypertextual Contemplation on Modernity | 87 |
| Jan Van Looy (K.U.Leuven) | |

III. Cybertext

| | |
|--|-----|
| Requiem for a Reader? A Semiotic Approach to Reader and Text in Electronic Literature | 123 |
| Jack Post (University of Maastricht) | |

The Narrative of an Interface: Rethinking Hypertext Theory by Facing Design Questions 141
Paul A. Harris (Loyola Marymount University)

Hypertextual Consciousness: Notes toward a Critical Net Practice . . . 157
Mark Amerika (University of Colorado – Boulder)

About the Contributors 177

Appendix: Electronic Literature on the Web 181