

Feminist Interventions in Early American Studies

EDITED BY MARY C. CARRUTH

THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA PRESS
Tuscaloosa

Contents

List of Illustrations ix

Acknowledgments xi

Introduction

Mary C. Carruth xiii

Part 1: Theoretical Interventions

1. Feminist Theories and Early American Studies

Sharon M. Harris 3

Part 2: Transnational Art by Women Poets and Painters

2. "My Goods Are True": Tenth Muses in the New World Market

Tamara Harvey 13

3. Self-Fashioning through Self-Portraiture in Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz

Margo Echenberg 27

Part 3: Re-Visions of God and Country: Women's Religious Practices

4. "Keepers of the Covenant": Submissive Captives and Maternal Redeemers in Colonial New England, 1660–1680

Sarah Rivett 45

5. Between Abjection and Redemption: Mary Rowlandson's Subversive Corporeality

Mary C. Carruth 60

6. “varied trials, dippings, and strippings”:
Quaker Women’s Irresistible Call to the Early South
Michele Lise Tarter 80

Part 4: Gender and Race in Early American Culture and Literature

7. Of Harlots and Hags: Feminine Embodiments of Early American Whiteness
Valerie Babb 97
8. Imagining Mary Musgrove: “Georgia’s Creek Indian Princess” and Southern Identity
Angela Pulley Hudson 112
9. Imaginative Conjunctions on the Imperial “Frontier”:
Catharine Sedgwick Reads Mungo Park
Ivy Schweitzer 126

Part 5: Gender Trouble in the American Revolution

10. Elegiac Patriarchs: Crèvecoeur and the War of Masculinities
Anne G. Myles 147
11. Phillis Wheatley and the Black American Revolution
Betsy Erkkila 161
12. An Actor in the Drama of Revolution: Deborah Sampson, Print, and Performance in the Creation of Celebrity
Karen A. Weyler 183

Part 6: Revolution from Within: Judith Sargent Murray

13. Reading the Letters of Judith Sargent Murray:
From Private Correspondence to Public Voice
Mary Rose Kasraie 197
14. Judith Sargent Murray’s Medium between Calculation and Feeling
Jennifer J. Baker 210

Part 7: Gender Performances in Early National Literature

15. “Daughters of America,” Slaves in Algiers: Activism and Abnegation off
Rowson’s Barbary Coast
Marion Rust 227

16. Columbia’s Daughters in Drag; or, Cross-Dressing, Collaboration, and Authorship in Early American Novels
Lisa M. Logan 240
17. Inscribing Manhood and Enacting Womanhood in the Early Republic
Angela Vietto 253
- Notes 267
- Works Cited 293
- Contributors 317
- Index 321