

International Canadian Studies Series
Collection internationale d'études canadiennes

---

ABORIGINAL PEOPLE AND OTHER CANADIANS

SHAPING NEW RELATIONSHIPS

Edited by Martin Thornton and Roy Todd

D.N. Collins, G. Mercer, H.N. Nicholson, M. Thornton, R. Todd,
D.S. Wall

International Council for Canadian Studies

University of Ottawa Press

Institut d'études canadiennes
Institute of Canadian Studies

Contents

Contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Chapter 1	Introduction
	Roy Todd . . . . . 1
Chapter 2	Aspects of the History of Aboriginal People and their Relationships with Colonial, National and Provincial Governments in Canada
	Martin Thornton . . . . . 7
Chapter 3	The Historiography of Christian Missions to Canada's First Peoples since 1970
	David N. Collins . . . . . 25
Chapter 4	Aboriginal People in the City
	Roy Todd . . . . . 93
Chapter 5	Aboriginal Peoples: Health and Healing
	Geoffrey Mercer . . . . . 131
Chapter 6	Canadian Aboriginal Justice Circles: Alternatives or Compromise in the Politics of Criminal Justice
	David S. Wall . . . . . 161
Chapter 7	Icons, Flagships and Identities: Aboriginal Tourism in British Columbia
	Heather Norris Nicholson . . . . . 187
Index	211