

THE AMERICAN MIDWEST

Essays on Regional History

ANDREW R. L. CAYTON and
SUSAN E. GRAY, editors

INDIANA UNIVERSITY PRESS
Bloomington and Indianapolis

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	vii
The Story of the Midwest: An Introduction Andrew R. L. Cayton and Susan E. Gray	I
1. Seeing the Midwest with Peripheral Vision: Identities, Narratives, and Region Mary Neth	27
2. Liberating Contrivances: Narrative and Identity in Midwestern Histories Eric Hinderaker	48
3. Pigs in Space; or, What Shapes America's Regional Cultures? John Lauritz Larson	69
4. Barbecued Kentuckians and Six-Foot Texas Rangers: The Construction of Midwestern Identity Nicole Etcheson	78
5. Pi-ing the Type: Jane Grey Swisshelm and the Contest of Midwestern Regionality Kathleen Neils Conzen	91
6. "The Great Body of the Republic": Abraham Lincoln and the Idea of a Middle West Kenneth Winkle	111
7. Stories Written in the Blood: Race and Midwestern History Susan E. Gray	123
8. The Anti-region: Place and Identity in the History of the American Midwest Andrew R. L. Cayton	140
9. Midwestern Distinctiveness R. Douglas Hurt	160
10. Middleness and the Middle West Jon Gjerde	180
Notes	197
Contributors	239
Index	241