

ANNIBALE FANTOLI

GALILEO

FOR COPERNICANISM AND FOR THE CHURCH

Whether in reaching such a decision it is advisable to consider, ponder, and examine what he [Copernicus] writes is something that I have done my best to show in an essay of mine. I hope the blessed God has granted me this, for I have no other aim but the honor of the Holy Church and do not direct my small labors to any other goal. (Galileo to Dini, 23 March 1615)
