

Scotland and the 19th-Century World

Edited by
Gerard Carruthers, David Goldie
and Alastair Renfrew

Amsterdam - New York, NY 2012

Contents

Contributors	9
Acknowledgements	13
Gerard Carruthers, David Goldie and Alastair Renfrew
Introduction	15
Douglas Gifford
Preparing for Renaissance: Revaluating Nineteenth-Century Scottish Literature	21
Andrew Hook
Scotland, the USA, and National Literatures in the Nineteenth Century	37
Pam Perkins
Reviewing America: Francis Jeffrey, The Edinburgh Review and the United States	53
Suzanne Gilbert
Alliance and Defiance in Scottish and American Outlaw-Hero Ballads	71
Susan Manning
Lateral Literary Biography: Robert Fergusson, Herman Melville and "Bartleby"	93
Trevor Royle
The Military Kailyard: The Iconography of the Nineteenth-Century Soldier	119
Michael Fry
"The Key to their Hearts": Scottish Orientalism	137
Richard Finlay
Exporting the Covenant: Scottish Missionary Tales and Africa, c.1870– c.1920	159
Johnny Rodger
From Slogan to Clan: Three Fragments from the Evolving Scottish/Germanic Literary Relations of the Romantic Period.	189
Ritchie Robertson
Nietzsche in Glasgow: Alexander Tille, John Davidson and Edwin Muir	213
Kenneth Simpson
"The great affair is to move": Stevenson's Journeys	231
Sarah Dunnigan
The Enchanted Worlds of Scott, Scotland, and the Grimms	249
Index	275