

New Labour in power: precedents and prospects

Edited by Brian Brivati and Tim Bale

London and New York

Contents

Contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xii
1 Introduction	1
Brian Brivati and Tim Bale
2 Economic policy: lessons from past Labour Governments	11
Jim Tomlinson
Commentaries: Edmund Dell, Peter Jay
3 From welfare state to post-welfare society? Labour's social policy in historical and contemporary perspective	34
Nick Ellison
Commentaries: A. H. Halsey, Christopher Price
4 The moral agenda	66
David Walker
Commentaries: Joe Bailey, Michael Phelan
5 Managing the state and the state as manager	79
Gerard Alexander
Commentaries: William Plowden, Martin Smith
6 Labour and the constitution
Part I: the record	111
Vernon Bogdanor
Part II: the Blair agenda	121
Edward Pearce
Commentary: Austin Mitchell MP
7 Foreign, defence and European affairs	137
John W. Young
Commentary: Geoffrey Warner

8 Managing the party and the trade unions	159
Tim Bale
Commentaries: Patrick Seyd, Peter Shore
9 Earthquake or watershed? Conclusions on New Labour in power	183
Brian Brivati
Appendix: CUSP and ICBH	200
Index	203