

New Casebooks

BLEAK HOUSE

CHARLES DICKENS

EDITED BY JEREMY TAMBLING

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
General Editors' Preface	xi
Introduction: JEREMY TAMBLING	1
1. Interpretation in Bleak House J. HILLIS MILLER	29
2. 'The Universe Makes an Indifferent Parent': Bleak House and the Victorian Family Romance CHRISTINE VAN BOHEEMEN-SAAF	54
3. Double Vision and the Double Standard in Bleak House : A Feminist Perspective VIRGINIA BLAIN	65
4. Discipline in Different Voices: Bureaucracy, Police, Family and Bleak House D. A. MILLER	87
5. Ideology and Critique in Dickens's Bleak House DOMINICK LACAPRA	128
6. Telescopic Philanthropy: Professionalism and Responsibility in Bleak House BRUCE ROBBINS	139
7. David Copperfield and Bleak House : On Dividing the Responsibility of Knowing AUDREY JAFFE	163
8. Re-reading Bleak House : The Chronicle of a 'Little Body' and its Perverse Defence KATHERINE CUMMINGS	183

9. Esther's Will TIMOTHY PELTASON	205
10. Losing One's Place: Displacement and Domesticity in Dickens's Bleak House KEVIN MCLAUGHLIN	228
Further Reading	246
Notes on Contributors	250
Index	252