

SUBJECTIVITY

Editors

Willem van Reijen
Willem G. Weststeijn

Amsterdam - Atlanta, GA 2000

CONTENTS

Introduction	1
Mario Moroni Dynamics of Subjectivity in the Historical Avant-Garde	3
Hubert van den Berg Dadaist Subjectivity and the Politics of Indifference. On Some Contrasts and Correspondences between Dada in Zürich and Berlin	29
Christine van Boheemen Subjectivity in a Post-Colonial Symbolic. The Anxiety of Joyce	59
Annelies Schulte Nordholt Proust and Subjectivity	81
Matthijs Engelberts A Glimpse of the Self. Defence of Subjectivity in Beckett and his Later Theatre	107
Willem G. Weststeijn The Subject in Modern Russian Poetry	169
Manfred Frank Self-Awareness and Self-Knowledge. Mental Familiarity and Epistemic Self-Ascription	193
Willem van Reijen Tested to the Breaking Point: Postmodernity in Modernity	217
Boris Groys The Russian Novel as a Serial Murder or The Poetics of Bureaucracy	235

Albrecht von Massow

Subjectivity as a Basic Presupposition of Modernity in Music 255

Patricia Pisters

New Subjectivity in Cinema. The Vertigo of Strange Days 283

Saskia Kersenboom

It Takes Three to Epistemology 315