

Media Meets Climate
The Global Challenge for Journalism

Elisabeth Eide & Risto Kunelius (eds.)

NORDICOM

Contents

Preface. Transnational Media Events, Vol II.	7
Chapter 1 Elisabeth Eide & Risto Kunelius Introduction	9
Part I Global Discourses
Chapter 2 Risto Kunelius Varieties of Realism. Durban Editorials and the Discursive Landscape of Global Climate Politics	31
Chapter 3 Ibrahim Saleh Ups and Downs from Cape to Cairo. The Journalistic Practice of Climate Change in Africa	49
Chapter 4 Hillel Nossek & Risto Kunelius News Flows, Global Journalism and Climate Summits	67
Chapter 5 Elisabeth Eide Saving the Rain Forest – Differing Perspectives. Norway’s Climate and Forest Initiative and Reporting in Three Countries	87
Chapter 6 Ville Kumpu & Mofizur Rhaman Futures of the Implicated and the Bystander. Comparing Futures Imagined in the Coverage of Climate Summits in Bangladesh and Finland	105
Part II Professional Issues
Chapter 7 Elisabeth Eide An Editorial that Shook the World ... Global Solidarity vs. Editorial Autonomy	125
Chapter 8 Mofizur Rhaman Applying Advocacy in Climate Change. The Case of Bangladesh	145

Chapter 9
Katherine Duarte & Dmitry Yagodin
Scientific Leaks. Uncertainties and Skepticism in Climate Change Journalism	163
Chapter 10
Philip Chubb
“Really, Fundamentally Wrong”. Media Coverage of the Business Campaign against the Australian Carbon Tax	179
Chapter 11
Adrienne Russell, Matthew Tegelberg, Dmitry Yagodin, Ville Kumpu & Mofizur Rhaman
Digital Networks and Shifting Climate News Agendas and Practices	195
Part III Actor-relations/Representations
Chapter 12
Oliver Habn, Elisabeth Eide & Zarqa S. Ali
The Evidence of Things Unseen. Visualizing Global Warming	221
Chapter 13
Andreas Ytterstad & Adrienne Russell
Pessimism of the Intellect and Optimism of the Will. A Gramscian Analysis of Climate Justice in Summit Coverage	247
Chapter 14
Kristin Skare Orgeret & Caroline d’Essen
From COP15 to COP17. Popular Versus Quality Newspapers Comparing Brazil and South Africa. A Question of Social Responsibility?	263
Chapter 15
Billy Sarwono, Zarqa S. Ali & Elisabeth Eide
Ignored Voices. The Victims, The Virtuous, The Agents Women and Climate Change Coverage	281
Chapter 16
Anna Roosvall & Matthew Tegelberg
Misframing the Messenger. Scales of Justice, Traditional Ecological Knowledge and Media Coverage of Indigenous Peoples and Climate Change	297
Chapter 17
Ville Kumpu & Risto Kunelius
Attention, Access and Dialogue in the Global Newspaper Sample. Notes on the Dependency, Complexity and Contingency of Climate Summit Journalism	313
Chapter 18
Elisabeth Eide & Risto Kunelius
Epilogue. Challenges for Future Journalism	331
The Authors	339