

LAW AND THE IMAGE

The Authority of Art and the Aesthetics
of Law

EDITED BY COSTAS DOUZINAS
AND LYNDA NEAD

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS
CHICAGO AND LONDON

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations

ix

Acknowledgments

xiii

List of Contributors

xv

↔ INTRODUCTION ↔

Costas Douzinas and Lynda Nead

i

PART I

VISION AND LAW

↔ ONE ↔

Must Justice Be Blind? The Challenge of Images to the Law

Martin Jay

19

↔ TWO ↔

Prosopon and Antiprosopon: Prolegomena for a Legal Iconology

Costas Douzinas

36

PART II
THE LAW OF IMAGES

→→ THREE ←←

- The Molding Image: Genealogy and the Truth of Resemblance in Pliny's Natural History, Book 35, I-7
Georges Didi-Huberman

71

→→ FOUR ←←

- The Iconography of Nothing: Blank Spaces and the Representation of Law in Edward VI and the Pope
Peter Goodrich

89

PART III
THE ART AND ARCHITECTURE OF JUSTICE

→→ FIVE ←←

- The Function of the Ornament in Quintilian, Alberti, and Court Architecture
Pryel Haldar

117

→→ SIX ←←

- The Festival of Justice: Paris, 1849
Katherine Fischer Taylor

137

→→ SEVEN ←←

- Law and Justice in England and France:
The View from Victorian London
Jonathan P. Ribner

178

PART IV
OBSCENITY AND ART

→→ EIGHT ←←

- Bodies of Judgment: Art, Obscenity, and the Connoisseur
Lynda Nead

203

↔ NINE ↔

“Not in a Public Lavatory but on a Public Stage”:
The Prosecution of The Romans in Britain

Mandy Merck

226

↔ TEN ↔

Obscene, Abject, Traumatic

Hal Foster

240

Index

257