

CONTENTS

Introduction	1
Chapter One: Privileged Moments and Felt Knowledge	11
Introduction	11
Involuntary Memory: An Unusual Pleasure Caused by an Identity of Sensations	12
Privileged Moments of the Imagination	19
Pleasurable Certainty and Wonder	24
Couvercles , Obligation, and Obstacles to the Search	28
La réalité pressentie : Joy and Sorrow in the Privileged Moment	32
Felt Knowledge	40
Epistemic Responsibility	44
Conclusion	47
Chapter Two: Courageous Vulnerability and the Bergsonian Artist	49
Introduction	49
Bergson: Intuition and Intellect	50
The Task of the Artist	59
The Problem of Language and the Freshness of Experience	67
Courageous Vulnerability: Preliminary Remarks	71
Courageous Vulnerability at Work	77
Conclusion	80
Chapter Three: Vagueness and Mystery	83
Introduction	83
Bergson on James, James on Bergson	84
Vagueness and/in Language	89
Pragmatic Meaning and Truth	96
The Sentiment of Rationality and Anhedonia	104
Anhedonia and the Broken World of À la recherche	113
Marcel's Distinction between Problem and Mystery	118
Primary and Secondary Reflection, Despair and Hope	122
Conclusion	125

Chapter Four: Crystallization and the Tragedy of Having (a Lover)	127
Introduction	127
Stendhal's Crystallization	128
Albertine a Stone round Which Snow Has Gathered	130
Love Regained in Absence	135
Love and the Role of Habit	137
Love as a Poetical Action: Albertine an Unconscious Thing of Beauty	140
Love as the Desire to Possess	143
The Tragedy of Having	147
The Tragedy of Desire	154
Presence Made Impossible by l'avoir-implication	156
Conclusion	164
Chapter Five: The Will to Believe in Privileged Moments	167
Introduction	167
Religion, Mysticism, and the Privileged Moment	168
Anhedonia Dispelled by Uneven Paving Stones	172
Mystical Moments in À la recherche	176
The Place of the Privileged Moment on James' Mystical Ladder	179
Invitation to a Strenuous Pursuit of Involuntary Memory	182
Zest and the Mystic Sense of Hidden Meaning	187
The Will to Believe in Privileged Moments	191
Conclusion	202
Chapter Six: The Difficulty of Being Courageously Vulnerable	205
Introduction	205
Fidelity and Death in À la recherché	206
The Will to Believe in Presence	213
Sincups and Effigies: A Critique of Creative Fidelity	218
Conclusion: The Difficulty of Being Courageously Vulnerable	228
Epilogue	237
Bibliography	243
Index	247