

Challenge to the Nation-State

Immigration in Western Europe and the United States

Edited by
CHRISTIAN JOPPKE

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

1998

CONTENTS

Notes on the Contributors	xii
Introduction	1
1. Immigration Challenges the Nation-State Christian Joppke	5
PART I. THE CHALLENGE TO SOVEREIGNTY
2. The de facto Transnationalizing of Immigration Policy Saskia Sassen	49
3. The Decline of Sovereignty? Politics and Immigration Restriction in Liberal States Gary P. Freeman	86
4. Asylum and State Sovereignty: A Comparison of the United States, Germany, and Britain Christian Joppke	109
5. European Union Migration Regimes, Established and Emergent Rey Koslowski	153
PART II. THE CHALLENGE TO CITIZENSHIP
6. The Re-Evaluation of American Citizenship Peter H. Schuck	191
7. Reconfiguring Citizenship in Western Europe Miriam Feldblum	231
8. Citizenship Rights for Non-Citizens: France, Germany, and the Netherlands Virginie Guiraudon	272
9. Multicultural Race Relations in Britain: Problems of Interpretation and Explanation Adrian Favell	319
Index	351