

Ricardo Castells

Fernando de Rojas
and the Renaissance Vision

Phantasm, Melancholy, and Didacticism in Celestina

The Pennsylvania State University Press
University Park, Pennsylvania

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
1 La presencia angélica de aquella ymagen luziente: Celestina and the Medieval Phantasmal Tradition	9
2 De dónde son los fantasmas: Dream Theory from Plato to the Renaissance	29
3 Calisto's Lovesickness and the Diagnosis of Heras and Crato, Médicos	47
4 Burton's The Anatomy of Melancholy: A Seventeenth-Century View of Celestina	63
5 Castiglione's Il cortegiano and the Depiction of Sensual Love in Celestina	79
6 Echando mis sentidos por ventores y my juyzio a bolar: Melancholy and Didacticism in Celestina	93
Works Cited	115
Index	123