

Mark Fenwick • Stefan Wrzka
Editors

Legal Certainty in a Contemporary Context

Private and Criminal Law Perspectives

 Springer

Contents

| | |
|---|-----|
| The Shifting Meaning of Legal Certainty | 1 |
| Mark Fenwick and Stefan Wrbka | |
| Part I Perspectives from Private Law | |
| Comments on Legal Certainty from the Perspective of European, Austrian and Japanese Private Law | 9 |
| Stefan Wrbka | |
| Intellectual Property, Private Ordering and Legal Certainty | 33 |
| Branislav Hazucha | |
| Considerations on the Transnationality of International Commercial Arbitration Awards in the Context of the Demand for Legal Certainty | 61 |
| Jason D. Hitch | |
| The Notion of Consumer Under EU Legislation and EU Case Law: Between the Poles of Legal Certainty and Flexibility | 69 |
| Jakob Søren Hedegaard and Stefan Wrbka | |
| Legal Certainty and Trusts in China | 89 |
| Zhen Meng | |
| Part II Perspectives from Criminal Law | |
| Multilingual Norms in European Criminal Law | 115 |
| Georg C. Langheld | |
| Empirical Judgement in Criminal Proceedings | 125 |
| Sebastian Stehle | |
| The Multiple Uncertainties of the Corporate Criminal Law | 147 |
| Mark Fenwick | |

| | |
|--|-----|
| Types of Offenders—A Criminological Perspective in Historical Contexts | 169 |
| Katrin Höfler | |
| International Criminal Law as a Means to Fight the ‘Hostes Humani Generis’? On the Dangers of the Concept of Enemy Criminal Law | 179 |
| Andreas Werkmeister | |
| Index | 193 |