

A 1999
12201

THE POETRY AND POETICS OF // CESAR VALLEJO

The Fourth Angle of the Circle

Edited by
Adam Sharman

The Edwin Mellen Press
Lewiston•Queenston•Lampeter

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction Adam Sharman	xiii
On the Socialism of Vallejo James Higgins	1
Transtextuality in the Writing of César Vallejo: "En mis falsillas encañona...": From Verbal to Textual Etymon Federico Bravo	17
From écriture to oralité in César Vallejo's Trilce I Bernard McGuirk	27
The Poetry of Vallejo: "Orfandad de orfandades" Alain Sicard	53
Trilce IX or the Shipwreck of Difference Susana Reisz	65
Trilce XLIV : A Study in Metaphor Arthur Terry	85
The Consubstantial Motion of Matter: Vallejo's Darwinian Allegory Christiane von Buelow	95
César Vallejo and the Space of Cultural Enunciation: An Analysis of "Fue Domingo en las claras orejas de mi burro" Stephen Hart	107
Vallejo's Personae: At the Limits of Formalism Adam Sharman	117
Pain as Cultural Sign in the Poetry of César Vallejo William Rowe	137
Vallejo, Prometheus, and the Flesh Made Word Joseph Adamson	153
Index	173
Notes on Contributors	179