

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgements	xiii
List of Abbreviations	xvii
Chapter 1. Introduction: Medievalist Historiography and Political Rhetoric	1
Chapter 2. Writing and Reading Historiography in the Renaissance: Genre Expectations as the Basis of Rhetoric	49
Chapter 3. Dynastic Duties and Financial Freedom: The Use of Narrative Themes in Reynier Snoy's History of Holland (c. 1516–17)	85
Chapter 4. From the Cloister to the Classroom: Procedures of Rewriting in Adrianus Barlandus's Chronicle of the Brabantine Dukes (1526)	159
Chapter 5. A Civil Servant's History: Petrus Divaeus's Political Analysis of the Brabantine Past (c. 1563)	219
Chapter 6. A Grand and Playful Narrative of Origins: The Verse History of Holland by Janus Dousa Sr (1599)	291

Chapter 7. Armed Resistance: Scholarly Skirmishes and Fighting for Freedom in the Prose History by Janus Dousa Sr and Jr (1601)	345
Chapter 8. The Specificity of Humanist Latin: The Relationship between Latin and Vernacular Historiography	387
Chapter 9. Epilogue	437
Appendix A. Manuscripts of Snoy's Historia Hollandie	447
Appendix B. Concordance Table for the Versions of Snoy's Historia Hollandie	450
Appendix C. Principal Sources for Some Reigns Described in Barlandus's Cronica Brabantiae ducum	452
Appendix D. Inclusion of Events from the Rule of John II in the Versions of Divaeus's Commentarii	455
Appendix E. Transcription of Some Entries from the Rule of John II in the Versions of Divaeus's Commentarii	458
Appendix F. Evocations of Roman Heroes in Dousa's Account of the Life of Dirk IV	465
Bibliography	467
Index	513