

Contents

Preface ix

A Key to Types of Writing Assignments xi

PART ONE

- 1 The Writer as Reader: Reading and Responding 3
- KATE CHOPIN, "RIPE FIGS" 3
- READING AS RE-CREATION 4
- MAKING REASONABLE INFERENCES 5
- READING WITH A PEN IN HAND 6
- RECORDING YOUR FIRST RESPONSES 7
- AUDIENCE AND PURPOSE 8
- A WRITING ASSIGNMENT ON "RIPE FIGS" 9
- The Assignment 9*
- A Sample Essay 9*
- Other Possibilities for Writing 10*
- 2 The Reader as Writer: Drafting and Writing 11
- PRE-WRITING: GETTING IDEAS 11
- Annotating a Text 11*
- More about Getting Ideas: Kate Chopin, "The Story of an Hour" 12*
- Brainstorming for Ideas for Writing 14*
- Focused Free Writing 14*
- Listing 15*
- Asking Questions 16*
- Keeping a Journal 17*
- Arriving at a Thesis 18*
- WRITING A DRAFT 19
- A Sample Draft: "Ironies in an Hour" 20*

Revising a Draft 21

Peer Review 22

THE FINAL VERSION 24

“Ironies of Life in Kate Chopin’s ‘The Story of an Hour’” 24

A Brief Overview of the Final Version 25

3 Writing about Literature: An Overview

27

THE NATURE OF CRITICAL WRITING 27

SOME KINDS OF ESSAYS 28

Historical, Biographical, Psychological, Feminist, and Formalist Criticism 28

TWO COMMON APPROACHES:

EXPLICATION AND ANALYSIS 32

Explication 32

A Sample Explication: Langston Hughes’s “Harlem” 32

Working toward an Explication of “Harlem” 34

Some Journal Entries 34

A Final Draft 36

Analysis 38

Comparison: An Analytic Tool 41

A Note on Writing a Summary 44

FINDING A TOPIC 45

Sample Topics in Fiction 46

PLOT, THEME, CHARACTER, FORESHADOWING, SETTING,
SYMBOLISM, POINT OF VIEW

Sample Topics in Drama 48

IRONY, TRAGEDY, COMEDY, PLOT, GESTURE

Sample Topics in Poetry 49

VOICE, DICTION, FIGURATIVE LANGUAGE, SYMBOLISM, STRUCTURE, IRONY, PATTERNS OF SOUND

CONSIDERING THE EVIDENCE 50

ORGANIZING THE MATERIAL 50

COMMUNICATING JUDGMENTS 51

REVIEW: HOW TO WRITE AN EFFECTIVE ESSAY 52

Pre-Writing 52

Drafting 53

Revising 54

Editing 54

PART TWO

- 4 Writing about Essays 57
- THE ESSAYIST'S PERSONA 57
- Tone* 58
- WRITING ABOUT AN ESSAYIST'S STYLE 59
- Joan Didion, "Los Angeles Notebook"* 59
- Annotations and Journal Entries* 61
- A Sample Essay on Joan Didion's Style* 63
- SUMMING UP: GETTING IDEAS FOR
WRITING ABOUT ESSAYS 65
- 5 Writing about Fiction: The World of the Story 66
- PLOT AND CHARACTER 66
- Writing about a Character* 69
- A Sample Essay on a Character: "Holden's Kid Sister"* 71
- FORESHADOWING 74
- SETTING AND ATMOSPHERE 77
- SYMBOLISM 78
- A Sample Essay on Atmosphere as Symbol:
"Darkness in Dubliners"* 80
- POINT OF VIEW 85
- Third-Person Narrators* 86
- First-Person Narrators* 88
- THEME: VISION OR DISCOURSE? 89
- Determining and Discussing the Theme* 91
- Preliminary Notes and Two Sample Essays on the Theme of Shirley Jackson's "The Lottery"* 92
- SUMMING UP: GETTING IDEAS FOR WRITING ABOUT FICTION 101
- WRITING FICTION ABOUT FICTION 104
- 6 Writing about Drama 109
- A SAMPLE ESSAY 109
- Preliminary Notes* 110
- "The Solid Structure of The Glass Menagerie"* 111

TYPES OF PLAYS 116
Tragedy 116
Comedy 119
Tragicomedy 120

ASPECTS OF DRAMA 122
Theme 122
Plot 124
Conventions 128
Costumes, Gestures, and Settings 129
Characterization and Motivation 132

WRITING A REVIEW OF A PRODUCTION 134
A Sample Review: "An Effective Macbeth" 135

SUMMING UP: GETTING IDEAS FOR
WRITING ABOUT DRAMA 139

7 Writing about Poetry 142

THE SPEAKER AND THE POET 142
The Language of Poetry: Diction and Tone 144
Writing about the Speaker: Robert Frost's "The Telephone" 144
Journal Entries 146

PARAPHRASE 148

FIGURATIVE LANGUAGE 149
Preparing to Write about Figurative Language 153

STRUCTURE 155
Annotating and Thinking about a Poem 155
The Student's Finished Essay: "Herrick's Julia, Julia's Herrick" 157
Kinds of Structure 159
Verbal Irony 162
Paradox 162

EXPLICATION 162
A Sample Explication of Yeats's "The Balloon of the Mind" 163

RHYTHM AND VERSIFICATION:
A GLOSSARY FOR REFERENCE 166
Rhythm 166
Meter 168
Patterns of Sound 170
Stanzaic Patterns 171
Blank Verse and Free Verse 173

- A SAMPLE ESSAY ON METRICS:
 “Sound and Sense in Housman’s ‘Eight O’Clock’” 174
- SUMMING UP: GETTING IDEAS FOR
 WRITING ABOUT POETRY 178

- 8 Writing about Film 181
- FILM AS A MEDIUM 181
- FILM TECHNIQUES 184
- Shots* 184
- Sequences* 186
- Transitions* 186
- Editing* 187
- THEME 189
- GETTING READY TO WRITE 191
- A SAMPLE ESSAY ON VISUAL SYMBOLS:
 “A Japanese Macbeth” 192
- SUMMING UP: GETTING IDEAS FOR
 WRITING ABOUT FILM 197

PART THREE

- 9 Style and Format 203
- PRINCIPLES OF STYLE 203
- Get the Right Word* 204
- Write Effective Sentences* 208
- Write Unified and Coherent Paragraphs* 211
- Write Emphatically* 217
- A Note on Authors’ Names and Other Troublesome Matters* 218
- REMARKS ABOUT MANUSCRIPT FORM 219
- Basic Manuscript Form* 219
- Quotations and Quotation Marks* 221
- 10 Research Papers 224
- WHAT RESEARCH IS NOT, AND WHAT RESEARCH IS 224
- PRIMARY AND SECONDARY MATERIALS 225
- FROM TOPIC TO THESIS 225

LOCATING MATERIAL 226

First Steps 226

Other Bibliographic Aids 227

Taking Notes 229

DRAFTING THE PAPER 230

DOCUMENTATION 231

What to Document: Avoiding Plagiarism 231

How to Document: Footnotes and Internal Parenthetical Citations 233

A SAMPLE ESSAY WITH DOCUMENTATION:

“Do the Pink Ribbons in Hawthorne’s ‘Young Goodman Brown’ Have a Meaning?” 245

II Essay Examinations 252

WHAT EXAMINATIONS ARE 252

WRITING ESSAY ANSWERS 253

Appendix A: Two Stories 257

Nathaniel Hawthorne, “Young Goodman Brown” 257

Shirley Jackson, “The Lottery” 266

Appendix B: Glossary of Literary Terms 273

Indexes 285