

SUB Hamburg

A/606594

Ethics and Politics after Poststructuralism

Levinas, Derrida and Nancy

Madeleine Fagan

EDINBURGH
University Press

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction: The Politics of Ethical Theory	1
The Limits of Ethical Theory	1
Non-foundational Ethics and Practical Politics	4
The Limits of Ethics and Politics	7
Map of the Book	11
1 Ethics, Politics, Limits	15
Introduction: Tracing the Limits of Theories	15
The Promise and Limitations of Post-foundational Ethics	19
The Move from Ethics to Politics	25
Refiguring the Limit between Ethics and Politics	37
2 Emmanuel Levinas: Ethics as Relation	44
Introduction: Ethics, Politics and the Third Person	44
The Other	46
The Third Person	56
Relationality as Plurality	68
3 Jacques Derrida: The Im-possibility of Responsibility	70
Introduction: Theory, Im-possibility, Limits	70
The Responsible Decision	72
The Ethics of Deconstruction?	80
The Politics of Deconstruction?	90

vi Ethics and Politics after Poststructuralism

4	Jean-Luc Nancy: The Transimmanence of Ethics	99
	Introduction: Starting at the Limit	99
	The Singular-Plural of Being	101
	Politics without Essence	108
	Ethics without Transcendence	116
5	The Limits of Theory: Ethics, Politics, Practice	125
	Introduction: Displacing the Line between Ethics and Politics	125
	Grounds, Origins and Foundations	127
	Immanence and Transcendence	131
	Conduct as Origin: 'Practical' Politics	138
6	Conclusion: Ethics and Politics after Poststructuralism	145
	Notes	153
	Bibliography	179
	Index	189