

Feminism, Economics and Utopia

Time travelling through paradigms

Karin Schönpflug

Contents

Preface	xiv
Acknowledgments	xvii
1 Introduction	1
Contents guideline	1
“Nowhere” versus the “negative hermeneutic of exposure”	3
Socialism, liberalism, feminism, and utopia	5
Utopia	6
2 Gender relations	13
Gender relations in utopia	13
Gender equality	14
Gender inequality	18
Fluid, non-binary conceptions of gender	23
Gender relations in economics	26
3 The Cartesian Turn in utopia	37
Changes in gender and nature perception: mechanists escaping a female cosmos	37
Paradigm shift reflected in the gender roles of Renaissance utopias	40
The myth of scarcity	48
4 Nuts and bolts: methodology	55
Sharp boundaries: the scientific and the babble	55
Historical annihilation of feminist knowledge production	58
Proclaiming “The End of Innocence”	68

xii Contents

Marketing of ideas 82
Tools, insights, and questions 84

5 Work 86

Work in utopia 86
Marxism, utopia, and feminism 95
Work in feminist utopia 105
Feminist economics and work 119

6 Femeconers and utopia: paradigm change now? 129

Change a system from within 131
Erosion through privilege 131
Not aiming for a paradigm change? 131
Feminist economics and utopia: voices from two generations 133
The Feminist Economics example 136
Alternative feminist economic theory 152
Some contemporary thoughts 154

7 “Der neue Mensch” and his need to be governed 156

Feminist critique of the status quo 157
Social organization alternatives 159
Social organization in the utopian dreaming of feminist economics 163
Feminism and anti-nationism 167
The design of anarchist communities and their governing institutions 175
Der neue Mensch 178
Strategies to toy with gaps and margins in the mainstream 182

8 The vision of the free market: “Free to choose?” 186

Libertarianism at work: neoliberal experiments and critical opinions 186
The utopian vision of Neoliberalism 191
Some alternatives proposed 206

Notes 214

Bibliography 220

Index 232