

The Politics of Central American Integration

Rafael A. Sánchez Sánchez

Contents

Glossary	ix
Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction	1
1 Intergovernmentalism in International Theory of Integration	10
2 States' Preferences on Integration: The Cases of Costa Rica and El Salvador	31
3 The Establishing of the Central American Common Market (CACM)	51
4 Growth and Instability in the CACM	79
5 War and Disintegration in the CACM in the 1980s	102
6 Rebuilding Integration in the 1990s	127
7 Restructuring the CACM in the 1990s: The Move towards Open Regionalism	154
8 Concluding Chapter	176
Notes	191
Bibliography	203
Index	221