

PROPER ISLAMIC CONSUMPTION

Shopping among the Malays in Modern Malaysia

JOHAN FISCHER

 niasPRESS

Contents

Preface xi

Acknowledgements xv

Glossary of Frequently Used Malay Terms xvii

Abbreviations xix

1. Shopping among the Malays in Modern Malaysia 1
The texture of the problem • Consuming suburbia • Discourses of proper Islamic consumption • The nationalisation of Islam in Malaysia • From halal to halalisation • The material of Malayness • Malaysianised millennialism • A note on methodology • The organisation of the monograph
2. Becoming Middle-Class Malays 53
Presentation of informants • Conceptualising class in Malaysia: history, capital, state and performance • Becoming middle-class Malays: education, family, income and consumption
3. Halalisation in and on Malaysian Bodies 74
Malaysianising consumption • Malaysian bodies in halalisation • Eating halal • Displaying class and covering the body
4. Housing Suburban Halalisation 104
Housing the semi-domain: inside out and outside in • cleanliness back and front • Kampung, city and the suburbanisation of the Malay middle class • The aesthetic of suburban security • The ethnic other of consumption • Exterior and interior convertibles: of Proton, Mercedes and MPV

5. Consumption, Moral Panic and the National Family 150
Recognising the national family • Mall importation: halal, haram or what? • Generational and gendering consumption
 6. The Excess of Possibilities 176
Get it right: the moderate and the excessive • Capitalised halalisation • The excess of possibilities, authenticity and the compelling fetish
 7. Consuming the Hand that Feeds You 204
Consumption as the predicament of state politics • The power of ritual
 8. Consumptions, Conclusions and the Wider Picture 226
The local and the global Islamic thing • The clash of familisms?
- Bibliography 239
- Index 253

FIGURES

1. Sungai Pencala and the Darul Arqam commune 2
2. Taman Tun Dr Ismail, the suburban fieldwork site of the monograph 3
3. The stretch of suburbia 5
4. The Nissan-sponsored welcoming sign to TTDI 6
5. The expanding One Utama mall 6
6. At-Taqwa mosque 7
7. A bungalow in TTDI 55
8. A condominium in TTDI 56
9. A one-storey terraced house in TTDI 58
10. A two-storey terraced suburban house in TTDI 59
11. Jaya Jusco supermarket in One Utama 87
12. Pasar Raya, a mini-market in TTDI 87
13. Entrance to Carrefour hypermarket, Kuala Lumpur 88
14. Inside Carrefour hypermarket 88
15. The halal logo issued by Jabatan Kemajuan Islam Malaysia (JAKIM) 89

Proper Islamic Consumption

16. Azlinah 93
17. The streets of TTDI 128
18. Guarding the fortified enclave 129
19. The spirit of the home: a Chinese house in TTDI 131
20. Holy cows at the gate in a middle-class suburb 132
21. The market for ethnicities: a furniture store in Kuala Lumpur 133
22. Proper food for Muslims (makanan Islam) 141
23. Islam in the rear window 143
24. Securing cars (one-storey terraced house) 144
25. Securing cars (semi-detached house) 145
26. Securing cars (bungalow) 145
27. The Devil in the mall: MacDonald's hell 162
28. The magazine section in a Kuala Lumpur mall 174
29. Masjid Negara 223