

The New Political Economy of Russia

Erik Berglöf,
Andrei Kunov,
Julia Shvets,
and Ksenia Yudaeva

612760871

The MIT Press
Cambridge,
Massachusetts
London, England

Contents

Preface vii

1 Introduction 1

2 Accounting for Growth 9

2.1 The Productivity Challenge 17

2.2 The Investment Challenge 29

2.3 The 2001 Survey on Reform Priorities 38

3 The Political Context of Economic Reform 43

3.1 Government Accountability during the Yeltsin
Presidency 45

3.2 Government Accountability during the Putin
Presidency 56

4 Structural and Institutional Reforms 67

4.1 Incentives and Failure of the Post-Soviet Judicial System 69

4.2 Regulation and Rent-Seeking Bureaucracy 97

4.3 Banking-Sector Failure and Reform 106

4.4 Social-Sector Reforms 121

5 International Accountability: The Prospect of Accession to the World Trade Organization	135
5.1 Costs and Benefits of WTO Accession	136
5.2 Russian Accession Strategy and WTO Accession as an External Anchor	141
5.3 Accompanying Policies	142
6 Conclusions	145
Notes	151
References	155
Index	163