

660 124 335

Mainstreaming
occupational safety and health into education: good practice in school and vocational education

European Agency
for Safety and Health
at Work

Contents

PREFACE	6
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY	7
1. INTRODUCTION	11
The aim of mainstreaming OSH into education	12
The Agency's project: a stepwise approach	12
The report	13
2. SHORT DESCRIPTIONS OF THE CASES	17
3. GOOD PRACTICE MAINSTREAMING OSH INTO EDUCATION	21
3.1. Towards a safe and healthy school: 'holistic' approach	22
3.1.1. The 'National healthy school standard', England	23
3.1.2. 'The safe school', the Netherlands	29
3.1.3. FAOS ('Light in school safety'), Greece	35
3.1.4. The 'School environment round', Sweden	40
'Snapshots' I	44
3.2. Safety and health as a transversal subject at school: curriculum approach	49
3.2.1. 'At the safety school', Italy	50
3.2.2. 'Examples of good practice to promote health and safety in primary school', Italy	56
3.2.3. Splat — 'Safe play at all times', England	60
3.2.4. The Armi project: 'Ar and Mi at school'/'New kids on the job', Denmark	66
'Snapshots' II	71
3.3. Transition from school to working life: workplace approach	77
3.3.1. 'Preventing accidents to children and young persons in agriculture', Ireland	78
3.3.2. Synergie, France	83
3.3.3. 'Students make machines safe', Belgium	87
3.3.4. 'Check it out', United Kingdom	92
3.3.5. 'Young people want to live safely', Germany	97
3.3.6. 'OSH integrated in curricular standards', Italy	100
'Snapshots' III	106
4. ANALYSIS OF THE PROCESS: HOW TO MAINSTREAM OSH INTO EDUCATION	115
4.1. Outline of a model of mainstreaming OSH into education	117
4.2. The process of mainstreaming OSH into education	119

5. TOWARDS A COHERENT STRATEGY ON MAINSTREAMING OSH INTO EDUCATION —
ROME DECLARATION AND NEXT STEPS	133
A 'coherent' strategy at European level	134
A first step towards a 'coherent' strategy	135
A follow-up to the Rome Declaration	138
Impact of enlargement	139
Next steps to be undertaken	140
Proposal for a road map for future activities	141
OVERVIEW OF CASES	144
'holistic' approach	144
Curriculum approach	145
Workplace approach	146
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	147