

Microfinance and forest-based small-scale enterprises

FAO
FORESTRY
PAPER

146

A06-1683

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Foreword	ix
Acronyms	xi
Summary	xiii
1. Introduction	1
2. Needs for microfinance among forest-based small-scale enterprises	3
Forest-based small-scale enterprises	3
Production aspects	5
Economic aspects	10
Social aspects	12
3. Sources of microfinance for forest-based enterprises	15
Microfinance services	15
Microfinance providers	28
Microfinance outreach	41
Financial sustainability	43
Impact on the environment	49
4. Nepal: the micro-enterprise development programme in Parbat district	51
Parbat district	52
Micro Enterprise Development Programme (MEDEP)	53
Livelihoods and Forestry Programme (LFP)	56
Conclusions	57
5. Guatemala: BANRURAL and Bancafé in Petén	59
Department of Petén	60
Bancafé	61
BANRURAL	63
Challenges for the future	63
Conclusions	64
6. The Sudan: El mirehbiba gum arabic producers association	67
Microfinance in the Sudan	68
El mirehbiba village	69

Elmirehbiba Gum Arabic Producers Association (EGAPA)	71
Conclusions	72
7. Peru: the Brazil nut industry in Madre de Diós	73
Microfinance in Peru	74
Department of Madre de Diós	74
Microfinance services in Madre de Diós	75
Conclusions	79
8. Conclusions	81
Conducive policy framework	82
Business development services, social facilitation and rural infrastructure	83
Enhancing the capacity of microfinance institutions	84
Bibliography	89