

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vi
Preface	vii
David Cunningham
Introduction: In the Same Breath – From the Black Box to the White Cube and Beyond	1
PART I: RESPIRATION, DISCOURSE AND THE QUESTION OF MEDIUM SPECIFICITY
1 Deetime: Breath and the Look of Non-Art	45
2 The Durational Turn: Absorption and the Specificity of Temporality	79
PART II: (RE)PRESENTING BREATH
3 Shortness of Breath: Beckett's Breath in Context	105
4 Emptied of Theatre: Breath and the Phenomenology of Disembodiment	120
PART III: THE EXHALED FIELD
5 Waste of Breath: The Readymade as a Stage Set	141
6 Intermedial Breath: Defying the Boundaries between Displaying and Staging	148
7 Investigating the Materiality of Respiration in Different Media	161
Conclusion: The Afterlives of Breath: Breathe – Breathe Again . . . Breathe Better	182
Bibliography	196
Index	216