

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: The Postcolonial Condition as a Strategic Concept for Critiquing This World	1
1	The Book Plan	1
2	A Return to Politics	8
3	A Return to Political Economy	11
4	Postcolonial Time	16
5	The Postcolonial Condition as a Strategic Concept	19
2	The Postcolonial Predicament	31
1	Production of Knowledge, Decline of Theory and the Postcolonial World	31
2	Translation, Equivalence, and the Making of the Postcolonial World	35
3	The Subject of the Postcolonial Predicament: The Migrant	40
4	The Subject of the Postcolonial Predicament: Labour	45
5	Dialectical Understanding of the Postcolonial Predicament	49
3	Postcolonial Dynamics of Accumulation	59
1	The “Ground Outside”: Boundaries of Accumulation	59
2	Some Reflections on the Organic Composition of Postcolonial Capital and Labour	63
3	Accumulation as Transition	70
4	Accumulation and the Reordering of Space	72
5	War, Accumulation and the Postcolonial Critique	78

4	Living Labour I: Reproduction of Life and Labour	89
1	Living Labour and the Labour of Living	89
2	The Resilient Life of Postcolonial Labour	96
3	Labour's Spectral Presence in the Market	102
5	Living Labour II: Logistics, Migration, and Labour	117
1	Migration and Changing Forms of Labour	117
2	The History of Nation and the History of Migrant Labour	120
3	Infrastructure, Supply Chains, and Logistical Nightmares	124
4	The New Territoriality of Capital: Data Centres in the Postcolonial World	131
6	Theories of Postcolonial Economy	145
1	The Fetish of Difference	145
2	Fetish of the Informal	154
3	A Question of Method	165
7	The Problematic of Dual Power	175
1	The Topography of Dual Power	175
2	Lenin and Mao on Dual Power	177
3	Autonomy of Workers' Struggles and the Issue of Dual Power	183
4	New Questions around Dual Power	189
8	The Problematic of People	203
1	How To Study People and Classes in the History of Struggles and Revolutions	203
2	Citizens, People and the Political Moment	207
3	The Multitude	211
4	Populism	219
9	The Fragmented Subject and a Theory of Leadership	233
1	Subject as a Product of Idealist Theorisation	233
2	If Not the Philosophical Subject, Then What?	237
3	Subject and Leadership	241
4	The Emergence of the Postcolonial Political Subject	248
5	Collective Subject and Leadership	252

10	Rebuilding the Theory of Crisis as a Postcolonial Task	261
1	The Working Class Perspective on Crisis	261
2	Lenin, Crisis, and the Postcolonial Condition	270
3	The Crisis of the Postcolonial Condition	275
4	The Historical Immanence of Crisis	280
	Bibliography	291
	Index	313