

Contents

| | |
|---|-----|
| Introduction | 1 |
| Stefanie Hoss | |
| Sewers or cesspits? Modern assumptions and Roman preferences | 5 |
| Gemma Jansen | |
| The latrine at the Roman fort on the Antonine Wall at Bearsden | 19 |
| David J Breeze | |
| Flushed with success – a Roman flushing installation in the latrines of the Great Bathhouse of the Colonia Ulpia Traiana near Xanten (D) | 23 |
| Norbert Zielsing | |
| The latrines of Roman Aachen | 29 |
| Andreas Schaub | |
| An outhouse in the garden? – Looking at a backyard in the vicus of Bonn | 35 |
| Jeanne-Nora Andrikopoulou-Strack, Manuel Fiedler and Constanze Höpken | |
| A bath with public toilets in the vicus of Bonn | 43 |
| Gary White | |
| The Roman public toilet of Rottenburg am Neckar | 47 |
| Stefanie Hoss | |
| Latrines connected to bathhouses in Germania inferior – an overview | 55 |
| Michael Dodt | |
| Roman toilets in Nijmegen, Oppidum Batavorum and Ulpia Noviomagus, the Netherlands | 77 |
| Elly N.A. Heirbaut | |
| Arlon, apport des découvertes récentes dans le vicus à l'examen des latrines gallo-romaines | 89 |
| Denis Henrotay | |
| A Roman latrine near St. Kolumba in Cologne and its remarkable contents | 95 |
| Michael Dodt | |
| Latrine pits in the Roman vicus of Vitudurum / Oberwintherthur (Switzerland) | 103 |
| Verena Jauch | |
| A Roman cesspit from the mid-2nd century with lead price tags in the civil town of Carnuntum (Schloss Petronell/Austria) | 119 |
| Beatrix Petznek | |
| Roman chamber pots | 127 |
| Beatrix Petznek | |
| A Roman 'Toilet bowl' from Speicher (Eifelkreis Bitburg-Prüm, Rhineland-Palatinate, Germany) | 137 |
| Bernd Bienert | |
| The meaning of stercus in Roman military papyri – dung or human faeces? Or: who is supposed to clean this shit up? | 143 |
| Kai Juntunen | |