

Contents

Preface .....	7
Barbara Korte (Tübingen) and Klaus Peter Müller (Stuttgart) Unity in Diversity Revisited: Complex Paradoxes Beyond Post-/Modernism .....	9
Kate Flint (Oxford) Looking Backward? The Relevance of Britishness .....	35
Silvia Mergenthal (Konstanz) Englishness / Englishnesses in Contemporary Fiction .....	51
Horst W. Drescher (Mainz) Re-Viewing the Scottish Tradition in (British) Literature .....	63
Helge Nowak (Regensburg) Black British Literature – Unity or Diversity? .....	71
Mark Stein (Frankfurt am Main) The Black British Bildungsroman and the Transformation of Britain: Connectedness across Difference .....	89
Raimund Schäffner (Heidelberg) 'Identity is not in the past to be found, but in the future to be constructed': History and Identity in Caryl Phillips's Novels .....	107
Claudia Sternberg (Chemnitz) PC TV? Ethnicity in Mainstream Television Drama (1986-1996) .....	127
Bernhard Reitz (Mainz) 'Shedding the panty-girdle': The Women Playwrights and the Issue of Feminism .....	147

Horst Prießnitz (Wuppertal)
Coherence and Decentrement:
Towards a Glocal Concept of English Literary Studies . . . . .	159
Erhard Reckwitz (Essen)
Intertextuality – Between Continuity and Innovation . . . . .	185
Tobias Döring (FU Berlin)
Culture and Translation: Re-Reading Matthew Arnold . . . . .	201
Elmar Schenkel (Leipzig)
Exploring Unity in Contradiction:
The Return of Alchemy in Contemporary
British Writing . . . . .	211
Rudolf Freiburg (Erlangen)
Imagination in Contemporary British Fiction . . . . .	225
John Lucas (Nottingham)
Value and Validity in Contemporary Poetry . . . . .	249
Jürgen Kramer (Dortmund)
A Note on ‘Third Terms’ . . . . .	263
Index . . . . .	265