

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Series Editor's Introduction	ix
Introduction: 'But we didn't know that then'	1
1. Memory in Theory	11
2. Present Imperfect Translation: Ronald Fraser's In Search of a Past and Carolyn Steedman's Landscape for a Good Woman	33
3. 'A life entire': Narrative Reconstruction in Sylvia Fraser's My Father's House and Margaret Atwood's Cat's Eye	61
4. Myths of Origin: Identity, Memory and Detection in Barbara Vine's A Dark Adapted Eye and Asta's Book	93
5. Holocaust, Memory, Representation: Georges Perec's W or The Memory of Childhood and Anne Michaels' Fugitive Pieces	119
6. Rememory and Reconstruction: Toni Morrison's Beloved	150
X Afterword	175
Bibliography	182
Index	194