

Contents

Preface
Toby Rose	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: Stories of the Uprooted
Katherine Payant	xiii
1. In(ter)dependent Selves: Mary Antin, Elizabeth Stern, and Jewish Immigrant Women's Autobiography
Wendy Zierler	I
2. Justifying Individualism: Anzia Yeziarska's Bread Givers
Martin Japtok	17
3. Fighting the Trolls on the Dakota Plains: The Ecstasy and the Agony of Norwegian Immigrants' Lives in O. E. Rolvaag's Giants in the Earth
Raychel Haugrud Reiff	31
4. Jasmine or the Americanization of an Asian: Negotiating between "Cultural Arrest" and Moral Decay in Immigrant Fictions
Göniül Pultar	45
5. Developing Negatives: Jamaica Kincaid's Lucy
Jacqueline Doyle	59
6. Speaking and Listening: The Immigrant as Spy Who Comes in from the Cold
June Dwyer	73

7. Repositioning the Stars: Twentieth-Century Narratives of Asian American Immigration Qun Wang	83
8. Borderland Themes in Sandra Cisneros's Woman Hollering Creek Katherine Payant	95
9. Crossroads Are Our Roads: Paule Marshall's Portrayal of Immigrant Identity Themes Toby Rose	109
10. Motherland Versus Daughterland in Judith Ortiz Cofer's The Line of the Sun Carmen Faymonville	123
11. Obasan and Hybridity: Necessary Cultural Strategies Matthew Beedham	139
12. Becoming Americans: Gish Jen's Typical American Zhou Xiaojing	151
Epilogue Toby Rose	165
Selected Bibliography	179
Index	183
About the Contributors	189