

Contents

Acknowledgements	IX
Introduction	1
1 The Troublesome Matter of Subjective Definitions	8
2 The Dynamic Distributions of Species and the Static Concept of Native Range	38
3 Speciation, Biodiversity, and Introduced Species	57
4 The Controversies Regarding the Perceived Negative Impacts of Non-native Species	83
5 Positive Contributions of Introduced Species	139
6 Changing Ecosystems and Impacts of Introduced Species over Time	160
7 The Endless War on Invasive Species – Control and Eradication Programs	203
8 Some Conclusions and Some Questions	244
Literature Cited	277
Index	309