

Contents

List of Figures	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
PART I
Consolidating Postcolonialism	19
1 Reading the Longstanding Materialist Challenge	21
The Question of Identity	22
The Question of Imagination	28
The Question of Integrity	35
Complicity 2.0	38
Beyond Complicity	42
PART II
Reworking the Market	47
2 The Market: Permeation	49
The Market, Commodification, and the Postcolonial (as) Commodity	50
Imagining Markets: Perspectives	57
Imagining Markets: Practices	61
The Structure of Market Revolutions—A Diachronic Perspective	71
The /Other/ Postcolonial Unconscious	75
3 Marketisation: Differentiation	80
The Marketisation of the English University System	82
Postcolonial Studies and Marketisation	89

	Between Romanticisation and Revolt	91
	Beyond Marketisation	100
4	The Brand Becomes the Product: Transformation	105
	Theorising the 'Postmodern-going-on-post-postmodern Condition'	106
	A Darker Side?	114
5	(Self-)Branding: Materialisation	117
	Branding as a Dimension of Practice: The Critic and Her Audience	119
	Brand Acts	130
	Brand Trouble	144
 PART III
	Branding Postcolonialism	155
6	If You Don't Brand Postcolonialism, Someone Else Will	157
	Incommensurability Meets Delineation	158
	Branding Contests: Ends and Remains	161
	Mobilised by Exclusions	165
7	Anti-capitalism as a Brand Narrative	168
	Anti-Capitalism and Othering	168
	The Strange Case of Robert JC Young's Postcolonialism: A Very Short Introduction	172
	(Beyond) West and East	179
	Cornerstones of Branding Postcolonialism as Anti-Capitalist	185
	Postscript: Anti-Capitalism as Strategic Essentialism?	187
	A Conclusion in Five Brand Acts	190
	 Bibliography	 201
	Index	221