

Table of contents

CHAPTER 1
Introduction	1
Kate Beeching, Chiara Ghezzi and Piera Molinelli
CHAPTER 2
Positioning through address practice in Finland-Swedish and Sweden-Swedish service encounters	19
Catrin Norrby, Camilla Wide, Jenny Nilsson and Jan Lindström
CHAPTER 3
Sociocultural and linguistic constraints in address choice from Latin to Italian	51
Piera Molinelli
CHAPTER 4
Closeness at a distance: Positioning in Brazilian workplace emails	81
Carolin Debray and Sophie Reissner-Roubicek
CHAPTER 5
Beyond the notion of periphery : An account of polyfunctional discourse markers within the Val.Es.Co. model of discourse segmentation	105
Shima Salameh Jiménez, Maria Estellés Arguedas and Salvador Pons Bordería
CHAPTER 6
Metacommenting in English and French: A variational pragmatics approach	127
Kate Beeching
CHAPTER 7
Direct speech, subjectivity and speaker positioning in London English and Paris French	155
Maria Secova

CHAPTER 8

- Positioning of self in interaction: Adolescents' use of attention-getters 177
Karin Aijmer

CHAPTER 9

- Constellation of indexicalities and social meaning: The evolution of cioè in Contemporary Italian 197
Chiara Ghezzi

CHAPTER 10

- “Proper is whatever people make it”: Stance, positionality, and ideological packaging in a dinnertime conversation 219
Mary-Caitlyn Valentinsson

CHAPTER 11

- Representations of self and other in narratives of return migration 241
Alexander Nikolaou and Jennifer Sclafani

CHAPTER 12

- Orthography as an identity marker: The case of bilingual road signs in the province of Bergamo 263
Federica Guerini

CHAPTER 13

- Positioning the self in talk about groups: Linguistic means emphasising veracity used by members of the Georgian Greek community 285
Concha Maria Höfler

- Author index 307
Subject index 313