CONTENTS

I. INTRODUCTION 1

Contrastive rhetoric and the notion of textuality 4

Key assumptions 6

II. A BRIEF HISTORY OF CONTRASTIVE RHETORIC 9

Kaplan and the birth of contrastive rhetoric 11

Directions of later research 14

Approaches to textuality in contrastive rhetoric research 17

III. DESCRIPTION OF THE THEORETICAL BASE - TEXTUAL CHARACTERISTICS 23

The relevance of interactive text theories in cognate fields 24

Discourse theory 25

Native English composition theory 26

Psycholinguistic reading theory 28

Literary criticism 29

General principles of an interactive theory of text 31

The dialogic nature of text 34

Text as norm-based 36

Schema theory as a basis for understanding norms 41

Genre constraints 45

Culture and cultural constraints 52

IV. DESCRIPTION OF THE THEORETICAL BASE - TEXTUAL FEATURES 63

Text-centered features 64

Cohesion 65

Coherence 66

User-centered features 68
Intentionality and acceptability 69
Informativity 70
Situationality 72
Intertextuality 74
Summary of the discussion of the theoretical base 75

V. IMPLICATIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS 79
Implications and recommendations for conducting CR research 79
Implications and recommendations for ESL writing instruction 83

APPENDIX. PILOT RESEARCH APPLICATION - AN EXAMINATION OF CROSS-CULTURAL TEXTS 89

BIBLIOGRAPHY 195

INDEX 217