

CONTENTS

1 Introduction	1
Naomi Segal and Jean Owen
Part I What is replacement?	13
2 ‘An eye for an eye’ or ‘a mile to a mile’: versions of replacement	15
Naomi Segal
3 Replacement mothers, bedtricks and daughters out of place	25
Jean Owen
4 Replacement, renewal and redundancy	35
James Brown
Part II Lost children	45
5 Lost boys in Little Eyolf	47

6	The Sisters Antipodes: replacement and its ripples of sibling rivalry Jean Owen	57
7	Artificial intelligence and synthetic humans: loss and replacement Georgia Panteli	67
Part III Wayward Women		77
8	The metaphysics of replacement in photoplay novels of immigration Marija Dalbello	79
9	Of ghosts and girls in Ulysses 13 Patrizia Grimaldi-Pizzorno	91
10	Medea: founder member of the first wives' club Mary Hamer	103
11	Replacement and genealogy in Jane Eyre and Wide Sargasso Sea Nagihan Haliloğlu	113
Part IV Law and society		123
12	Who is the 'real' mother? Replacement and the politics of surrogacy Samantha Ashenden	125
13	The ethos of replaceability in European human rights law Sarah Trotter	137

14	Remembering the disappeared in Lita Stantic's Un muro de silencio Alison Ribeiro de Menezes	147
Part V Replacement films		159
15	Deadness, replacement and the divinely new: 45 Years Andrew Asibong	161
16	'She was the most beautiful creature I ever saw': visualising replacement in Hitchcock's Rebecca Laura Mulvey	169
17	Married to the Eiffel Tower : notes on love, loss and replacement Agnieszka Piotrowska	177
18	'That's my son': replacement, jealousy and sacrifice in Un Secret Naomi Segal	185
Part VI The Holocaust		193
19	Replacement as personal haunting in recent postmemory works Susanne Baackmann	195
20	Embodying her ghost: self-replacement in Petzold's Phoenix Monika Loewy	207
21	Replacement or ever present: Jerzyk, Irit and Miriam Anthony Rudolf	217

Part VII Psychoanalysis	22
22 Replacement and reparation in Sarah Polley's Stories we tell	23
Agnieszka Piotrowska
23 Replacement, objet a and the dynamic of desire/fantasy in Rebecca	24
Odeya Kohen Raz and Sandra Meiri
24 Rooms as replacements for people: the consulting room as a room object	25
Deborah Wright
Index	26