

Contents

1	Introduction	1
1.1	How This Book Came About and Why It Is Needed	3
1.2	Methodological Aspects	7
1.2.1	Political and Historical Background Analysis	8
1.2.2	Legal Analysis	8
1.2.3	Empirical Research	9
1.2.4	Pros and Cons of the Methodology	16
1.3	Outline	17
	Bibliography	21
2	Protection of Human Rights Defenders	27
2.1	Introduction	27
2.2	Who Are the Human Rights Defenders?	28
2.3	Why Protect Human Rights Defenders?	33
2.4	Examples of National Public Policy for Protecting Human Rights Defenders in Latin America	38
2.5	Conclusion	49
	Bibliography	53
3	Brazil's Path Towards Human Rights	57
3.1	Introduction	57
3.2	Politics of Human Rights Through Brazil's Re-Democratization	58

3.2.1	Military Dictatorship (1964–1985)	59
3.2.1.1	First Phase of the Spiral Model: Repression and Activation of Network	59
3.2.1.2	Second Phase of the Spiral Model: Denial	61
3.2.1.3	Third Phase of the Spiral Model: Tactical Concessions	62
3.2.2	Transition to Democracy (1985–1990)	65
3.2.2.1	Fourth Phase of the Spiral Model: Prescriptive Status	66
3.2.3	Constitutional Democracy (1990–2017)	68
3.3	Structural Problems and the Role Played by Human Rights Defenders	76
3.4	Conclusion	80
	Bibliography	85
4	State and Civil Society's Responses to State and Non-State Actors' Violence Towards Human Rights Defenders	95
4.1	Introduction	95
4.2	Violence Against Human Rights Defenders	95
4.2.1	State Violence Against HRDs	97
4.2.2	Non-State Violence Against HRDs	99
4.3	Responses to Violence Against Human Rights Defenders	101
4.3.1	Civil Society Responses to Violence Against HRDs	101
4.3.2	State Responses to Violence Against HRDs	103
4.4	Conclusion	105
	Bibliography	107
5	The Path to the Creation of a Program for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders	111
5.1	Introduction	111
5.2	Towards the Creation of the PPDDH: 1984–2003	112
5.2.1	Transnational Advocacy Networks (TANs) and Developments at UN and OAS HR Mechanisms	112
5.2.2	Latin American Consultations on HRDs	114
5.2.3	Brazilian Seminars on HRDs, the Permanent Committee for HRDs, and Further Repercussions	115

5.3	The Creation of the PPDDH: 2004	122
5.3.1	Further Transnational Political Engagements and the Three PPDDH Bills	122
5.3.2	The Launch of the PPDDH as a Political Response to International and Domestic Pressures	123
5.4	After the Creation of the PPDDH: 2005–Today	128
5.4.1	The PPDDH Second Launch as a Public Relations Act	128
5.4.2	Sister Dorothy Stang’s Assassination and the PPDDH’s Rushed Implementation in the States of Pará (PA), Espírito Santo (ES), and Pernambuco (PE)	129
5.4.3	Transnational Advocacy Networks (TANs) and Brazilian Committee of HRDs (CBDDH) Seek Specific Legislation for the PPDDH	131
5.4.4	Third PPDDH Bill, the Moving of the Manoel Mattos Case to Federal Jurisdiction, and New State Programs	132
5.4.5	More International (TANs) and Domestic (CBDDH) Pressures and Governments’ Lack of Political Will to Reform the PPDDH Successfully	133
5.4.6	Corruption Scandals, Operação Lava Jato (Car Wash Operation), the Impeachment of President Rouseff and Their Impacts on the Works of the PPDDH	136
5.5	Conclusion	141
	Bibliography	148
6	The Legal Framework and Legal Functioning of the Program for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders	151
6.1	Introduction	151
6.2	The Legal Framework for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders: Federal Level	152
6.2.1	The Place of the PPDDH-Federal in the Structures of Government	154

3.2.1	Military Dictatorship (1964–1985)	59
3.2.1.1	First Phase of the Spiral Model: Repression and Activation of Network	59
3.2.1.2	Second Phase of the Spiral Model: Denial	61
3.2.1.3	Third Phase of the Spiral Model: Tactical Concessions	62
3.2.2	Transition to Democracy (1985–1990)	65
3.2.2.1	Fourth Phase of the Spiral Model: Prescriptive Status	66
3.2.3	Constitutional Democracy (1990–2017)	68
3.3	Structural Problems and the Role Played by Human Rights Defenders	76
3.4	Conclusion	80
	Bibliography	85
4	State and Civil Society's Responses to State and Non-State Actors' Violence Towards Human Rights Defenders	95
4.1	Introduction	95
4.2	Violence Against Human Rights Defenders	95
4.2.1	State Violence Against HRDs	97
4.2.2	Non-State Violence Against HRDs	99
4.3	Responses to Violence Against Human Rights Defenders	101
4.3.1	Civil Society Responses to Violence Against HRDs	101
4.3.2	State Responses to Violence Against HRDs	103
4.4	Conclusion	105
	Bibliography	107
5	The Path to the Creation of a Program for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders	111
5.1	Introduction	111
5.2	Towards the Creation of the PPDDH: 1984–2003	112
5.2.1	Transnational Advocacy Networks (TANs) and Developments at UN and OAS HR Mechanisms	112
5.2.2	Latin American Consultations on HRDs	114
5.2.3	Brazilian Seminars on HRDs, the Permanent Committee for HRDs, and Further Repercussions	115

5.3	The Creation of the PPDDH: 2004	122
5.3.1	Further Transnational Political Engagements and the Three PPDDH Bills	122
5.3.2	The Launch of the PPDDH as a Political Response to International and Domestic Pressures	123
5.4	After the Creation of the PPDDH: 2005–Today	128
5.4.1	The PPDDH Second Launch as a Public Relations Act	128
5.4.2	Sister Dorothy Stang’s Assassination and the PPDDH’s Rushed Implementation in the States of Pará (PA), Espírito Santo (ES), and Pernambuco (PE)	129
5.4.3	Transnational Advocacy Networks (TANs) and Brazilian Committee of HRDs (CBDDH) Seek Specific Legislation for the PPDDH	131
5.4.4	Third PPDDH Bill, the Moving of the Manoel Mattos Case to Federal Jurisdiction, and New State Programs	132
5.4.5	More International (TANs) and Domestic (CBDDH) Pressures and Governments’ Lack of Political Will to Reform the PPDDH Successfully	133
5.4.6	Corruption Scandals, Operação Lava Jato (Car Wash Operation), the Impeachment of President Rousseff and Their Impacts on the Works of the PPDDH	136
5.5	Conclusion	141
	Bibliography	148
6	The Legal Framework and Legal Functioning of the Program for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders	151
6.1	Introduction	151
6.2	The Legal Framework for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders: Federal Level	152
6.2.1	The Place of the PPDDH-Federal in the Structures of Government	154

9	What Is Preventing the Program for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders from Fulfilling Its Potential, and What Can Be Done?	231
9.1	Introduction	231
9.2	Shortcomings of the PPDDH	232
9.2.1	Limited Budget and a Lack of Resources	232
9.2.2	The PPDDH's Dependence on Other Actors to Provide the Protection for HRDs	233
9.2.3	Lack of a Dedicated Legislative Framework	234
9.2.4	Lack of Political Will from Brazil's Federal and State Governments	236
9.3	Building the Political Will to Reform the PPDDH	237
9.3.1	Ongoing Political Initiatives for Reforming the PPDDH	238
9.3.1.1	Political Initiatives for Reforming the PPDDH at State Level	238
9.3.1.2	A Political Initiative for Reforming the PPDDH at OCS Level	242
9.3.2	Interviewees' Ideas for Reforming the PPDDH	242
9.4	Conclusion	244
	Bibliography	248
10	Conclusion	249
10.1	Summary of Key Findings	249
10.1.1	Why Was the PPDDH Really Created in 2004? How Did Its Creation Reflect Developments in HR Since the 1970s?	252
10.1.2	How Has the PPDDH Functioned Since Its Creation in 2004? Is the PPDDH Really Fulfilling Its Stated Aims by Protecting People Who Have Been Designated as HRDs?	253
10.1.3	Who Else Does the Existence of the PPDDH Benefit?	254
10.1.4	What Kind of Change—If Any—Has the Creation of the PPDDH Produced in the Broader HR Situation?	255
10.1.5	To the Extent That the PPDDH Has the Potential to Affect HR Change, i.e.,

	To Help Tackle Social Authoritarianism, What Is Keeping the PPDDH from Fulfilling Its Potential and What Can Be Done to Remove These Obstacles?	257
	10.1.5.1 How Can the Legal Framework for the PPDDH be Developed Further?	258
10.2	Recommendations for Reforming the PPDDH	259
	10.2.1 Evaluation of Interviewees' Answers for Reforming the PPDDH	259
	10.2.1.1 The State Should Take Over the Full Management and Execution of the PPDDH	259
	10.2.1.2 The PPDDH Should Prevent Occasional Militants from Misusing Their Status as HRDs under the Protection of the PPDDH and Direct Its Protection to HRDs at Grassroots Level	261
	10.2.1.3 Better Protocols for the PPDDH Regarding Inclusion and Exclusion of HRDs	262
	10.2.1.4 Passing of the Third PPDDH Bill n° 4.575/2009	263
	10.2.1.5 The PPDDH Should Advertise Its Own Existence to HRDs Better	264'
10.2.2	Own Recommendations for Reforming the PPDDH	264
	10.2.2.1 Creation, Implementation, Resuming, and Resourcing of State Programs for the Protection of HRDs in All 21 Brazilian States Where There Is None	264
	10.2.2.2 The PPDDH Should Be under the Administrative Authority of the National Human Rights Council (CNDH)	265
10.2.3	The Need to Strengthen the Political Will to Reform the PPDDH	266

10.3 Opportunities for Further Research	267
Bibliography	269
Bibliography	271
Index	295