

Contents of Volume 1

Introduction .....	ix
List of Authors Included .....	xiii
Acknowledgments .....	xvii
Chinua Achebe 1930- Widely considered the finest Nigerian novelist, Achebe was the first African to attract international attention with his classic work Things Fall Apart .....	1
Jamil Abdullah Al-Amin (H. Rap Brown) 1943- In Die Nigger Die! , Al-Amin documented his emergence as an outspoken civil rights activist who advocated: "Meet violence with violence." .....	16
Maya Angelou 1928- An American autobiographer, performer, and poet, Angelou is best known for the lauded I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings , an autobiography detailing her traumatic childhood .....	25
Ayi Kwei Armah 1939- A novelist born in what is now Ghana, Armah evaluates postcolonial Africa in such works as The Beautiful Ones Are Not Yet Born and Why Are We So Blest?....	40
William Attaway 1911?-1986 American novelist Attaway produced the definitive work on the Great Migration—the movement of blacks from the agrarian South to the industrialized North after World War I—with the novel Blood on the Forge .....	56
James Baldwin 1924-1987 One of the most important American writers of the twentieth century, Baldwin—author of Go Tell It on the Mountain —is considered an eloquent and impassioned critic of racial and sexual discrimination in American society .....	75
Toni Cade Bambara 1939- American writer Bambara is recognized as much for her civil rights activities as for her writings, which include noted short stories, novels, and screenplays .....	108
Amiri Baraka (LeRoi Jones) 1934- Considered the most influential figure of the Black Arts Movement, Baraka is a prolific critic of American society and the acclaimed author of Dutchman and Preface to a Twenty Volume Suicide Note .....	121
Barry Beckham 1944- With the novel Runner Mack , Beckham drew praise for writing a powerful allegory of the African-American experience from the days of slavery to black militancy in the 1960s .....	152
James Madison Bell 1826-1902 Called the "Bard of the Maumee" and the "Poet of Hope," Bell rallied support for the antislavery movement with his popular abolitionist poetry .....	172
Louise Bennett 1919- Affectionately known as "Miss Lou," Bennett is a contemporary Jamaican poet who writes in her native Creole .....	180

Mongo Beti (Alexandre Biyidi) 1932-
Cameroonian francophone novelist Beti was one of the first African writers to combine humor and perceptive social criticism in the novels The Poor Christ of Bomba , Mission Accomplished , and King Lazarus .....	189
Arna Bontemps 1902-1973
The foremost scholar and historian of the Harlem Renaissance, Bontemps is best known for Black Thunder , a fictionalized account of a slave uprising that occurred in 1800 in Virginia .....	207
David Bradley 1950-
Author of The Chaneyville Incident , Bradley has been praised for creating one of the most important novels yet written by a contemporary black author .....	226
William Stanley Braithwaite 1878-1962
A noted critic and anthologist, Braithwaite is credited with helping revitalize American poetry in the early twentieth century as the editor of the annual Anthology of Magazine Verse .....	238
Gwendolyn Brooks 1917-
The first African-American writer to win a Pulitzer Prize, Brooks is considered one of the finest American poets of the twentieth century .....	247
Claude Brown 1937-
Brown is best known for his autobiographical account Manchild in the Promised Land , the story of his tumultuous childhood in Harlem .....	270
Sterling Brown 1901-1989
Long recognized as an important critic of African-American literature, Brown has recently been called one of the finest poets of black dialect verse .....	281
William Wells Brown 1816?-1884
In the first novel published by an African-American man— Clotel; or, The President's Daughter —Brown cast as his heroine a mulatto daughter of Thomas Jefferson, drawing on the legend that the president fathered children by a slave mistress .....	292
Dennis Brutus 1924-
A South African poet who has been imprisoned for his anti-apartheid activities, Brutus is best known for his verse about imprisonment and exile .....	307
Ed Bullins 1935-
Dramatist Bullins is one of the most prominent figures of the Black Arts Movement. He is the author of The Taking of Miss Janie , a drama about a black man who rapes a white woman who is clad in a star-spangled bra and slip .....	321
J. E. Casely-Hayford 1866-1930
Ghanaian novelist Casely-Hayford expounded cultural Pan-Africanism and political nationalism in Ethiopia Unbound . This novel is considered one of the most significant contributions ever made to African nationalist literature .....	343
Aimé Césaire 1913-
West Indian poet and dramatist Césaire is called “The Father of Negritude” for his promotion of black pride, exemplified in his statement: “I accept... I accept... completely, without reservation... my race that no brew of herbs and flowers could wash away.” .....	355
Charles W. Chesnutt 1858-1932
The first African-American fiction writer to receive critical and popular attention from the white literary establishment, Chesnutt implicitly denounced slavery in his short stories yet still attracted an audience that favored works praising the antebellum South .....	374
Alice Childress 1920-
Dramatist Childress is best known for her children’s novel A Hero Ain’t Nothin’ but a Sandwich , the story of Benjie Johnson, a thirteen-year-old boy in the process of becoming addicted to heroin .....	401
John Pepper Clark 1935-
As one of Nigeria’s foremost anglophone dramatists, Clark drew from classical Greek and Shakespearean drama as well as from the folk literature of the Ijaw people to create Song of a Goat and The Masquerade .....	414

Austin Clarke 1934-
As the author of the “Toronto Trilogy”— The Meeting Point, Storm of Fortune, and The Bigger Light —Clarke chronicles the plight of people who, like himself, have left their native Barbados to live in Canada .....	430
Eldridge Cleaver 1935-
Once a prominent member of the Black Panthers, Cleaver is the author of Soul on Ice , a collection of essays he wrote while in prison .....	445
Lucille Clifton 1936-
A poet and children’s writer, Clifton often conveys concern for black families and youth in her work .....	458
Joseph Seamon Cotter, Sr. 1861-1949
In Caleb, the Degenerate —one of the earliest dramas by an African-American— Cotter advocated self-reliance, personal initiative, and racial pride .....	470
Countee Cullen 1903-1946
One of the foremost poets of the Harlem Renaissance, Cullen is the author of the poem “Yet Do I Marvel,” in which he wondered: “Yet do I marvel at this curious thing/ To make a poet black and bid him sing.” .....	485
Frank Marshall Davis 1905-1987
Davis’s free verse has prompted commentators of today to call him the “father of modern black poetry” .....	516
Samuel R. Delany 1942-
Regarded as one of the most inventive writers in the science fiction genre, Delany treats such issues as the black experience in America, women’s rights, and gay rights in his fiction .....	526
William Demby 1922-
Author of Beetlecreek and The Catacombs , Demby is known for the universality of his fiction .....	541
Owen Dodson 1914-1983
An influential drama instructor at Howard University for twenty-three years, Dodson was the honorary “Dean of Black Theater” as well as an accomplished poet .....	560
Frederick Douglass 1817?-1895
Author of one of the most compelling antislavery documents produced by a fugitive slave, Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass , Douglass was an important spokesman for the abolition of slavery .....	574
W. E. B. Du Bois 1868-1963
Although he is the author of the famous The Souls of Black Folk as well as numerous essays, novels, poems, and histories, Du Bois is generally remembered as a pioneering civil rights activist in the twentieth century .....	597
Paul Laurence Dunbar 1872-1906
Considered America’s first great black poet, Dunbar is best known for his dialect verse and as the first black author in America to earn a living from his pen .....	622
Cyprian Ekwensi 1921-
Popular Nigerian writer Ekwensi is both praised and spurned for his novels— with Jagua Nana , some critics lauded him for creating a “West African masterpiece” while others dismissed the work as “a mere exercise in pornogra- phy.” .....	643
Lonne Elder III 1931-
Author of the play Ceremonies in Dark Old Men , Elder became a screenwriter in order to bring his message of social awareness to a wider audience .....	661
Ralph Ellison 1914-
One of the most influential and accomplished American authors of the twentieth century, Ellison is best known for his masterpiece Invisible Man , the story of an unnamed black youth’s quest for identity in a deluding, hostile world .....	673